1937 Farm Income Jumps 13 Per Cent

North Carolina's principal farm crops brought $196,587,000 in 1937, an increase of 13 per cent over 1936, according to Julian Mann, extension statistician at State college.

This increase of nearly $26,000,000 was probably brought about by the above-average prices received for the bumper tobacco crop produced last year, Mann said,

Government payments for participation in the agricultural conservation program jumped sharply in 1937. In 1936 the payments amounted to $4,302,000, while last year farmers received a total of $12,-

Receipts from the sale of livestock and livestock products showed a slight decline in 1937. In 1936 the figure was $2,965,000; last year it dropped off to $2,589,000, Adding livestock, crops, and government payments together, the 1937 total was $33,500,000 over that of the previous year.

The favorable prices received for tobacco was perhaps the factor which kept North Carolina from joining these states in a decreased income, the statistician declared. Next to Florida, this state has the largest net increase in the southeastern division. Including federal payments to farmers cooperating in the conservation program, North Carolina's increase was 17
