MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD FOR C. R. MCCARTHY

A memorial service to the memory of the late Charles Raymon McCarthy was held at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night. The Baptist Young Peoples Union was invited to take part in this service which was also attended by a number of friends. The service was led by Steve Potts who is the chaplain of the Christian Endeavor. The opening prayer and hymn was followed by a talk given by Jack Potts on the work of the Christian Endeavor during the past year. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rucker sang a duet, and Newton Crunkleton made a short talk on the work and accomplishments of Mr. McCarthy during the time he was the pastor of the Presbyterian church here. This program was presented by candlelight, after which each member of the Christian Endeavor lighted his individual candle from a central candle and re-dedicated himself to the Christian Endeavor pledge.

Following this service the B. Y. P. U. adjourned to the Baptist church and held their regular meeting, which included a song service led by Mrs. Lawrence Hicks, and a talk on "Forwardness" by Mrs. Arthur Potts.

The performance of the "Blue Sky Boys" presented last week under the auspices of the B. Y. P. U. netted the organization $24, which was placed in the treasury.

STUDENTS TAKING PART IN ESSAY CONTEST

Students in the Highlands high school are taking part in a state-wide essay contest this week. The subject of the essay is "The Advantages of American Citizenship." The School Theatre is offering a prize for the best essay in the local school, the county is offering a prize for the best essay in the county, and the state will give a prize for the best in the state. The results of the local contest will be announced next week.

CLINIC PROVES QUITE SUCCESSFUL

The pre-school, pre-natal and well-baby clinic held in Highlands was quite successful.

There were a large number of pre-school children examined in the presence of their parents. Nutrition and oral hygiene were the chief defects found. There were few who had enlarged or defected tonsils. Parents were urged to have these defects corrected before the child enters school the coming fall. Most of this group were vaccinated for diphtheria, smallpox and had recently had typhoid vaccination.

The pre-natal and well-baby clinic was attended fairly well. The expectant mothers showed a great interest in their condition and promised to attend the clinic regularly. Mothers were anxious to have their babies examined and were apparently interested and appreciative of the advice given. On a whole both mothers and babies were benefited by their attendance. Similar clinics will be held at regular intervals.

Maurice Cleaveland returned home on last Wednesday from a Brevard hospital where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. He is reported as being well on the road to recovery.

Professor O. F. Summer is doing nicely following an operation at Mission hospital a week ago Saturday. He will be at the hospital for some time.

Mr. L. G. Appley and his son, Pat, who is a student at Clemson College, arrived in Highlands last week.

Professor Bill Lippincott, of Clemson College, S. C., spent the week-end in Highlands.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harkley, of Atlanta, are spending some time at their home here.

Mr. J. Smith is seriously ill with pneumonia at his home here.

An Interesting Mineral Collection

Prof. J. L. Robinson, of New York and Asheville, who has been prospecting in Western North Carolina for some time, brought to The Press office Tuesday a very interesting display of minerals which were found in Macon county.

In the collection were specimens containing lead, gold and iron, and also a rock from which he makes a fine black dye. Another specimen which he claims to have found in abundance in one locality contains oil which will boil out when heat is applied.

Prof. Robinson was born in Burma, but was brought to this country at an early age and has been educated here. He is an entertainer by profession but makes a hobby of collecting minerals. He states that he found a greater variety of valuable minerals in Macon county than he has discovered anywhere in his travels over the United States.

Louisa Chapel Members To Repair Church

Members of the Louisa Chapel Methodist church will meet at the church on Wednesday, April 6, for the purpose of underpinning the building, painting the belfry and replacing missing window panes. It is also planned to sow grass in the church yard. In case the weather is not suitable for work on that day, the next day, April 7, has been tentatively set for making the repairs.

Dinner will be served on the grounds, and all members and friends of the church are invited to attend and lend a hand.
