Of Golf To Play Monday At Highlands

It is announced that Charles Yates, who recently won the amateur golf championship in Scotland, and Robert Tyre Jones, better known as "Bobby," will play an exhibition match at the Highlands club on Monday, July 4, and that will be "golf what is golf."

It is expected that a record-breaking gallery will be on hand to watch the play of the two world champions, and the influx of visitors will no doubt tax the hotel and tourist people of Highlands to the utmost.

Franklin has no special program on the Fourth except for three baseball games. Holly Springs and Cashiers will play in the morning, beginning at 10 o'clock, and Franklin and Clarkesville, Ga., will start a game at 3 p. m. At night the donkey baseball game will be played for the benefit of the fire department. All games will be played on the high school athletic field.

Stanfield Reunion Held June 26

On Sunday, June 26, the Stanfield family and friends held their annual reunion at Pleasant Grove Primitive Baptist church in Caswell county. Elder T. A. Stanfield presided and introduced the speakers. After a number of songs, a history of the Stanfield family was given by Kenneth Stanfield, of Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Stanfield exhibited manuscripts and notes showing the family history to the origin in 1066, and many photos of old homes and castles in the family with their history.

Members of the Stanfield family first settled in Halifax county, Va., early in 1700 and later in Caswell and Person counties, N. C.

Talks were made by W. S. McKinney and T. D. Long. A bountiful dinner was served on the lawn at noon to about 500 and in the afternoon a sermon was delivered by G. C. King.

Many persons had an opportunity to meet other members of the family and friends and a most enjoyable time was had by all attending.

The following states were represented: Tennessee, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina.

G. E. Harris, of near Roxboro, N. C., who married a Stanfield, extended an invitation to have the reunion next year at the old John Stanfield house now in his family, near Roxboro. The invitation was accepted and the reunion will be held next year on the first Sunday in June.

Those attending from Cullasaja were: Mrs. Fannie Gregory, Miss Margie Stanfield, Miss Mae Stanfield, Mrs. Lee Davidson, of Pennsylvania, and two children, Gladys and Roy.

Henry West Raises Monster Cabbage

Mr. and Mrs. Henry West had on display Wednesday at their grocery store a cabbage which weighed 10½ pounds after the outside leaves had been stripped off, and which was raised on their own place near Franklin.

Garden Club To Meet July 1

The Franklin Garden club will meet tomorrow (Friday, July 1) at 3 p. m. in the basement of the Methodist church. All members are urged to attend.

Farm Security Office Moved to New Building

The farm security administration office, which has been in the Asher building for some time, moved this week to the Agricultural building on Church street.

RECENT BRIDE

Mrs. Eugene Charles Bullock Who, Before Her Marriage on June 18, Was Miss Virginia McGuire

GRADUATES WITH BRIDE

Four years ago, when he enrolled at Columbia Theological seminary, Rev. Jack Brame McMichael, of College, Ala., vowed that when he finished school he would graduate with a bride on his arm. A few days ago he was married to Miss Frances Jackson and two hours later he received his diploma. Here he is shown with sheepskin and bride.

B. Y. P. U. News Of Franklin Baptist Church

Even though the Franklin Baptist church is yet without a pastor, its auxiliary organizations are carrying on their work in splendid fashion. While the lack of a pastor has somewhat curtailed the membership attendance plans are afoot to increase the membership and its activities.

Last Thursday evening the Seniors enjoyed a picnic and swimming party at Arrowood. About 20 young people attended the outing. Then on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock the Cradle Roll and Junior departments, under the sponsorship of Mrs. J. E. Wyman and Mrs. Theo. Kiser, also had an outing at Arrowood. The younger members of the party played games in the park while the older ones were taken swimming in the lake by Floyd Wyman.

Following the Monday afternoon outing the regular business meeting of the month was held in the church auditorium. There the officers of the organization discussed program plans for the next month and also urged each member to lend his best efforts toward a bigger, better B. Y. P. U.

They'll Eat the "Cups," Too!

THE old favorite — chocolate ice cream—fits so well into so many companion dishes. Cakes, nuts, fruits, sauces! There is no end to the way you can serve this cooling, satisfying dessert. And, for those who are ever-seeking unusual ways of tempting the lazy summer appetites, this "Wafer Cup" recipe is a delightful aid:

CHOCOLATE ICE CREAM IN WAFER CUPS

3 tablespoons butter	3 tablespoons milk
6 tablespoons confectioner's sugar	½ teaspoon la
½ cup flour	Choc marsh-mallow ice cream
Few grains salt

Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually and cream thoroughly. Mix the flour and salt and add to the first mixture alternately with the milk. Add the vanilla. Drop by spoonfuls, several inches apart, on buttered cooky sheets and spread very thin making 8 rounds about 5 inches in diameter. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) for about 15 to 18 minutes or until very delicately browned. Place the pans in the oven a few minutes apart so that they will not be done at the same time. Remove the rounds, one at a time, with a wide spatula and shape over an inverted glass or custard cup. Cover with a cloth before shaping to keep from burning the hands. Work quickly because the cups must be shaped while warm. If they become too crisp, return to the oven to soften. Fill with chocolate marsh-mallow ice cream. These cups are fragile but delicious. Care should be taken when filling with the ice cream. This recipe makes 8 cups.
