

Dual Hunting And Fishing Licenses Effective Aug. 1

RALEIGH, July 27.—Reminding the individual sportsman of his personal responsibility in observing and assisting in the enforcement of game and fish laws, the 1938-39 combination hunting and fishing license will be in the form of a badge, the division of game and inland fisheries of the department of conservation and development announced.

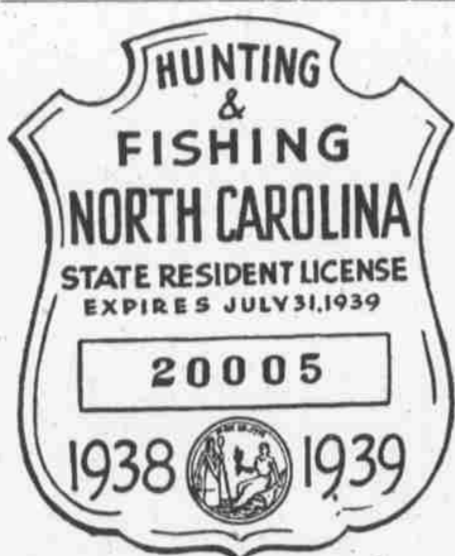

The new licenses will be of metal, finished in nickel, with black numerals, and are made up in the form of a shield. They are now on sale in every county in the state and may be purchased through game protectors and authorized sales agents.

Combination licenses offer a substantial saving for sportsmen over the state hunting and fishing licenses purchased separately. The licenses for the two sports, when purchased individually, sell for $2.10 each, making a total of $4.20, while the dual privilege combination license may be had at a price of only $3.10. The dual license becomes effective August 1.

Authorized later than the separate hunting and fishing licenses, the combination permit has grown steadily in popularity during the past several years and the attractive design is expected to make the demand still greater.

"With the advent of the new license," said J. D. Chalk, state game and inland fisheries commissioner, "hunters and fishermen will, no doubt, have the fact that they are custodians of the wildlife of the state more forcefully impressed upon their minds. They will also be reminded that they have an individual responsibility in the protection and conservation of the creatures of the stream, field, and forest.

The department of conservation and development is constantly improving its protector service, but no matter how efficient this group may become, they could not cope adequately with the situation without the interest and cooperation of the sportsmen who not only observe the laws themselves, but help to see that others do likewise."

Licenses can be obtained at the following places: Macon County Supply company, Franklin; Leach Bros., Franklin; Highlands Hardware company, Highlands.

Mrs. Siler Is Author of Book On Mountains

"Cherokee Indian Lore and Smoky Mountains Stories," is the title of a new publication just off the press. Mrs. Margaret R. Siler, of Franklin, is the author and publisher of this new and interesting booklet.

This new publication is different from any heretofore published on this mountain section. Practically all the booklets now on sale are of a descriptive nature. Mrs. Siler's publication deals more in human interest stories, concerning pioneering days and lore, facts and fancies of the Cherokee Indians.

To see the booklet is to want to read it. To read it is to get real pleasure in something different.

Mrs. Siler has spent years gathering the material for her booklet and coming off the press at this time, when so much interest is centered on the Indians and the Smoky Mountains, gives it a place of real interest among publications on this section.

The booklet was printed by the Bryson City Times. It is now on sale at news-stands, drug stores, hotels and craft shops at 50 cents per copy. It contains 113 pages.

August Busy Month On Carolina Farms

RALEIGH, July 27.—Many are the tasks which demand the time of the farmer and his family during the month of August. Below are 10 important August work reminders, as compiled by the Carolina Co-operator Yearbook and Almanac:

1. Sow fall turnips and winter radishes.
2. Prepare wheat land and check grain drill.
3. Pigs to be marketed in September should be made comfortable and be full fed for maximum gains.
4. Dairy animals to be exhibited in fairs and cattle shows should be selected now and prepared for the show ring.
5. Drain wet places and repair terraces.
6. Clean, disinfect and air the sweet potato curing house.
7. Let no weeds go to seed in or near the garden.
8. Sprouts, brush, shrubs and the like may be eliminated with more ease and for a longer time if cut now than at any other time of the year.
9. If you are planning to save seed, then inspect all lespedeza fields once a week and destroy all dodder found.
10. Cut next winter's wood supply.

Co-Op Associations Increases Hog Sales

More hogs were sold cooperatively by North Carolina farmers during the first half of 1938 than during the entire year 1937, according to H. W. Taylor, extension swine specialist at State college.

Ten of the 15 markets where swine are sold through local co-operative marketing associations reported that from December 1, 1937, to mid-June, 1938, they shipped 48,419 hogs that brought $765,974.42. On 14 markets last year, 48,297 hogs were sold for $951,561.70.

When reports from all 15 markets for the first half of this year are tabulated, Taylor continued, the total amount received for hogs will run considerably above the figure for all of 1937.

Last year the hogs averaged 196 pounds apiece and sold for $10.40 a hundredweight. This year the average was 193 pounds and the price was approximately $8.21 a hundred pounds. Hog prices this year were affected by general business conditions and an increase of swine production over the country.

The 10 markets from which reports have been compiled so far are at: Tarbor, Plymouth, Warsaw, Washington, Four Oaks, Shawboro, Elizabethtown, Greenville, Cofield, and Lumberton.

The marketing associations are local organizations composed of growers and are operated by members elected to serve as officers. They are assisted by county farm agents and the extension swine specialist, who has devoted much of his time to this phase of cooperative marketing during the past year and a half.

The associations sell direct to the packing companies who submit sealed bids for the farmers' offerings.
