HELP KIDNEYS

To Get Rid of Acid and Poisonous Waste

Your kidneys help to keep you well by constantly filtering waste matter from the blood. If your kidneys get functionally disordered and fail to remove excess impurities, there may be poisoning of the whole system and body-wide distress.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination may be a warning of some kidney or bladder disturbance.

You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

In such cases it is better to rely on a medicine that has won country-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Use Doan's Pills. A multitude of grateful people recommend Doan's. Ask your neighbor!

Commercial Hatcheries Will Need Many Eggs This Winter

RALEIGH, Aug. 24.—H. S. Wilfong, N. C. Department of Agriculture senior poultry specialist, forecasts a heavy demand for federal-state approved, blood-tested hens to supply adequate hatching eggs for commercial hatcheries this winter and spring.

"Well over two million eggs can be set by the 91 approved hatcheries now operating in North Carolina and it will take approximately 300,000 breeding-hens to supply hatching eggs for the hatcherymen," he said.

"It is unfortunate that the state produces only 35 per cent of the eggs consumed, but it is even more unfortunate that Tar Heel hatcherymen do not have sufficient blood-tested breeding stock to maintain the poultry population on our farms that is necessary to permit capacity operation of our hatcheries."

Wilfong said that 95 per cent of the hatcherymen in the state are now operating under the National Poultry Improvement Plan, a federal-state plan for the eradication of pullorum disease and for the promotion of a more profitable poultry industry. The plan has been operated in North Carolina for the past two years under the direction of the State Department of Agriculture's veterinary division which annually makes more than 300,000 tests on breeding birds for pullorum disease.

Applications have been filed with the veterinary division for the testing of approximately 250,000 hens for pullorum disease, a disease that is highly fatal to baby chicks. "This indicates a shortage of approximately 10 per cent in the number of breeding hens required to furnish eggs for the commercial hatcheries co-operating under the National Poultry Improvement Plan," Wilfong said.

Premiums for the State Fair to be held at Raleigh, October 11-15, have been increased by $3,000, reports Fair Manager J. S. Dorton.
