ment. Depending upon individual cases the applicant will be referred to the agency that administers old age assistance or old age insurance, or to the proper agency which will care for his disability and if possible will see to his physical and vocational rehabilitation.

"The employment service is open to the general public and accepts applications from all persons desiring employment. These people are carefully interviewed by specially trained interviewers and their applications are filed according to the occupations for which they are best fitted.

"On the staff of the employment service are highly trained interviewers who classify all applicants on an occupational basis. Every applicant must fully satisfy our interviewer as to his qualifications for a certain type of work before he can be classified under that title. Thus you are assured of receiving only qualified workers. For example, suppose you need a stenographer who can take down verbatim reports of speeches at a conference. We would refer to you girls whose training and experience qualified them for that highly skilled work. You would run no risk of having to interview girls who could take only normal dictation.

"When an order from an employer is received, the employment officer carefully selects from the occupational file involved the registration cards of those persons best qualified to fill that particular job. The law expressly provides that this selection shall be made on the basis of qualification, and that no political, religious or economic considerations shall influence this decision.

"The persons so selected are then notified to call at the office, where they are given an introduction card and referred to the employer. From the people so referred, the employer selects the individual to be hired."

Hitler Acclaimed in Streets of Nuremburg

The Fuehrer is wildly cheered by the populace as he motors through the streets of medieval Nuremburg. It was here that 1,500,000 Germans rallied to hear their leader demand the right of self-determination for Sudeten Germans in Czechoslovakia.

Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering (right), chief lieutenant of Dictator Hitler, is shown in conversation with Inspector Dr. Todt, in charge of the construction of fortifications on the western front of Germany and chief of the German super-highways. Supply Of Phosphate Limited, Floyd Says

The AAA will not be able to accept any more orders for phosphate to be used this year in connection with the agricultural conservation program, E. Y. Floyd, AAA executive officer at State college, has announced.

Farmers in North Carolina and other states, showing a growing interest in soil improvement, have asked for more phosphate than the AAA will be able to secure from the Tennessee Valley authority and other manufacturers.

Orders for 650 tons have been filled so far in this state, Floyd pointed out, and an additional 300 tons can probably be delivered by the middle of October on orders that have been accepted already.

But no more orders can be placed this year, he continued. Nevertheless, farmers who wish to apply phosphate to their legume crops and pastures in earning AAA payments can do so by purchasing the material from local dealers.

Under the agricultural conservation program, arrangements had been made for supplying growers with phosphate at a low cost and deducting a small amount from their AAA payments. The farmers responded to such an extent that there is not enough phosphate to supply the demand through AAA sources.

Growers who don't buy any phosphate this year can earn their conservation program payments, Floyd added, by carrying out other soil-building practices such as seeding Austrian winter peas, vetch, and crimson clover.

Old Folks' Day At Louisa Chapel

Old Folks' Day was observed last Sunday at Louisa Chapel. This is an annual affair, held each year at some church in the county on the third Sunday in September. It is sponsored by the Macon County Old Folks' association.

The day began officially at 10 o'clock, with acting president Rev. George Cloer in charge of ceremonies. After congregational singing and prayer by Rev. J. I. Vinson, the president introduced Mayor George Patton, of Franklin, who brought the address of welcome. Mr. Patton also called attention to the destructive forces at work in Europe and America, and stressed the necessity of lining up with the church and its great program of evangelism.

At 11 o'clock Evangelist A. A. Haggard was introduced. Before Rev. Haggard spoke, Mr. Theron Bunting sang, "The Wayworn Traveler."

Rev. Haggard brought a wonderful message on God's plan of salvation, from the fall of man to the death, resurrection, ascension, and looked-for coming again of Christ. The morning program was brought to a close with the benediction by Rev. E. P. Swanson. The large crowd then gathered around a bountifully laden table for the noon meal.

The afternoon program began at 1:30. Devotions were conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Lester Sorrells. Following devotions, the choir of Watauga Baptist church, led by Mr. James Raby, sang a number of selections.

At 2 o'clock a short business session was held. Secretary J. L. Sanders, of Prentiss, read the minutes of the last Old Folks' Day; Mr. E. B. DeHart, the previously elected president, having died, Rev. George Cloer was elected president for the coming year. Rev. J. I. Vinson was elected vice-president.

After the business session, Rev. Vinson spoke on "The Cure for Present World Conditions," which he said is love. More singing by the Watauga choir, and several brief talks brought the day to a close. Old Folks' Day in 1939 will be held at Watauga Baptist church. J. R. BOWMAN.

PRODUCTION UP

Although the number of milk cows in North Carolina decreased 1 per cent in the past year, the average daily milk production jumped from 12.9 pounds per cow in 1937 to 13.2 pounds in 1938, says John Arey, extension dairyman at State college.

YIELDS INCREASE

A general and rather substantial improvement in crop prospects in most parts of the United States was noted during July, and indications on August 1 were that yields of most crops would be well above average.

Guernsey breeders of Henderson county have organized an association for the promotion of the breed in that county.

Prize-Winning Fruit Requires Great Care

Prize-winning exhibits of fruit for fall fairs should be harvested with painstaking care, said M. E. Gardner, head of the State college department of horticulture.

Pick several times the quantity needed for an exhibit so as to have a wide choice to select from. Extra fruits should also be sent to the fair to provide replacements in case any are damaged in shipment.

Leave the stem attached, as a stem missing from one specimen in a plate exhibit will disqualify the entire plate.

Fruit picked from the top of the tree, where it is exposed to more sunshine throughout the day, are usually better colored than those on the lower branches.

Do not enter fruit that is off color, not uniform in size and shape, or which shows injury from insects, disease, or bruises. Such fruit cannot compete for prizes, and it detracts from the appearance of the entire display.

For the plate exhibits, take special care to select the very best fruit, as the judges examine each specimen closely. Don't make the mistake of picking the biggest fruit for plate exhibits, but get medium sized fruit that are uniform in size and color and are true to type.

Fruit to be shipped should be wrapped carefully, each specimen in an individual wrapper, to keep it from bruising. The fruit may be polished if this can be done without bruising, but it is not necessary as judges do not usually give any extra credit to polished fruit.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages may be further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.
