PREVENTION OF FIRE STRESSED

October 9-15 Proclaimed
Fire Prevention Week
Over Nation

Next week, October 9-15, will be Fire Prevention Week throughout the United States by proclamation of the President, governors of the various states and mayors of towns and cities.

Fire Prevention Week is observed annually just before the cold weather sets in and fire hazards increase.

People are urged to clean out all basements and attics, inspect and clean flues and heating equipment and clear away all inflammable trash and rubbish. Also to inspect wiring and electrical appliances and have repairs made where necessary. School principals and teachers are asked to see to it that heating apparatus is safe and warn children about fire dangers. They are also asked to have regular fire drills in the various schools.

Chief R. D. Ashe, of the Franklin fire department will post placards in public places over the town calling attention to the importance of observing the safety measures cited above and urging the elimination of fire hazards here.

Communion To Be Observed At Morrison

The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be observed in the Morrison Presbyterian church on next Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m., following the preaching service by the pastor.

Prof. Atkins Visits Rev. William Elmore

Prof. Adolph Atkins was the guest of Rev. William Elmore during last week-end. He was well pleased with the points of interest visited and the scenic beauty of our Western counties.

Prof. Atkins is a graduate of Appalachian State Teachers' college and the University of North Carolina.

He left Tuesday for the northeast where he expects to visit New York City and Niagara Falls. He also plans to see the world series.
