CORRECTION

The Press regrets the error last week wherein it stated that Col. Dear, of Fort Benning, Ga., had bought the S. T. Marett Real Estate Agency. The article should have read "Col. Dear has bought, through the S. T. Marett Real Estate Agency, the G. W. Marett property at Shortoff," the word "through" being inadvertently omitted by the printer.

HIGHLANDS SCHOOL THEATRE SPONSORING MUSICAL SHOW

The Highlands School theatre is sponsoring the Rice Brothers, Hoke and Paul, and their gang in person at the theatre on Tuesday evening, November 8, at 7:30 o'clock. These radio artists are from station WSB, and among their musical instruments is an electrical guitar. The proceeds of the evening's entertainment will go to the school theatre.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY MEETS WITH MRS. LAMB

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Incarnation held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Jessie C. Lamb on Thursday, October 27, with seven members and three visitors present. The Rev. Frank Bloxham conducted the devotional service, and the business session was presided over by Mrs. A. C. Holt, vice-president. Several matters were discussed and attended to, among them the Christmas mission box. As the date of the next regular meeting comes on Thanksgiving Day, the auxiliary decided to hold the November meeting on Tuesday the 29th.

Mrs. Fred E. Carter, of Leominster, Mass., who is visiting her sister, Miss Bernice Durgin, was given a warm welcome.

Mrs. Lamb served delicious refreshments and was assisted in serving by Mrs. Eliot Caziarc.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR MRS. J. M. HALL

A surprise birthday party, which was also a Halloween party, was given for Mrs. J. M. Hall by a number of her friends at the Hall home on Thursday evening, October 27. The guests wore Halloween costumes and masks.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall celebrated the birthday by going out for supper, and on their return home they were met in the driveway by a witch with a black cat on a leash. The witch and the cat dashed into the darkened house, where other witches, hobgoblins and haunts were assembled. When the lights were turned on, Mrs. Hall's efforts to identify the guests caused much merriment. Ghost stories were told and a "body" disinterred piece by piece, and the dismembered parts, eyes, brains, teeth, etc., were passed from guest to guest for identification in the darkness.

Doughnuts and cider were served to about 20 guests who enjoyed the occasion.

REV. AND MRS. DUPREE ENTERTAIN CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

The Rev. and Mrs. R. B. DuPree entertained the Christian Endeavor with a Halloween party at the manse on Monday evening, October 31. A witch on one side of the gate and a skeleton on the other side greeted the guests, who were made to crawl through a winding tunnel from the gate into the front door. This tunnel was filled with bones, wet hands, and other ghostly things. When they finally succeeded in reaching the living room, Halloween games were played, apple-bobbing, a fish pond, picture taking enjoyed, and ghost stories were told.

Refreshments were doughnuts, punch and candy. The party ended with a short devotional program and the guests went home happy.

MR. AND MRS. POTTS GIVE HALLOWEEN PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Potts entertained with a Halloween party at their home on Monday evening, honoring their daughter, Miss Peggy Potts. The young guests were received by a ghost who gave each of them a very bony handshake. The game was "Follow the String," which led upstairs, past Devil and black cat jack-o'-lanterns, through dry leaves and down stairs again, ending at the cider bowl in the living room. There were ghost stories and fortune telling, followed by a treasure hunt in the yard, with Anne Anderson finding the treasure, a goblin box of candy.

The refreshments were ice cream, cake, candies and cider, served in the dining room, which was decorated in Halloween colors. The table held a large yellow cake, topped with a witch and adorned with black cat heads. The favors were small candles that popped when pulled. There were also cups filled with black and orange jelly beans.

Tudor Hall came as a small red Devil, with horns and a pitchfork. Bobby Rice was a black cat, and the young hostess was a witch. The other guests wore the usual Halloween costumes and were Angela, Ann and Mary Deas Anderson, Betty Potts, Dicky Rice, Sara and Isabel Hall.

Mrs. Potts was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Caroline Hall.

PREACHING HOUR SUNDAY GIVEN OVER TO B. Y. P. U.

The preaching hour at the Baptist church was given over to the B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening. Carleton Cleveland, president, led the devotional service, and Paul Walden had charge of the special program, "The Working of the Holy Spirit." This program was divided into six topics and interesting talks were made by the different members on each topic. Two hymns were sung by the trio, Mrs. Lawrence Hicks, Miss Mildred Littleton and Mrs. A. B. Potts.

After the regular program, the Dendy Brothers and Lee McClure from the Gold Mine gave a song service which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

REV. J. G. BENFIELD CONDUCTS S. S. TRAINING COURSE

The Rev. J. G. Benfield is conducting a Sunday school teachers' training course at the Baptist parsonage three evenings a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Mr. Benfield has a large class, and anyone wishing to take up this study will be welcomed.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Christian Endeavor met on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Wendell Cleveland, the president, leading the devotional service, and Peggy Thompson in charge of the program on the "Race Problem." The November contest is so many points for daily Bible reading, attendance, taking part on the programs, and good behavior. The losing side will entertain the winning side with a social at the end of the month.

REHEARSALS UNDER WAY FOR THREE PLAYS

Rehearsals are well under way on the three one-act plays, which the Funmakers will present this month. The casts for the three one-act plays are as follows:

"Egbert to the Rescue"—Margie Waller, Cary Reese, Victor Smith and Henry Zoellner.

"Just Settin'"—Jacquelin Aiken, Jessie Keener, Newton Crunkleton and Elmer McDowell.

"I'm Terribly Sorry"—Estelle Edwards, Eelen Waller, Mozelle Bryson, Earl Young, Tom Chastain, Charles McDowell, Harold Speed, Betty Speed, and several others whose parts have not been definitely settled.

SCHOOL NOTES

American Education Week, November 6 to 12 inclusive, will be observed by Highlands school. The general theme of the nation-wide program is "Education for Tomorrow's America." A small booklet, "How your school helps your child along the pathway to self-realization, human relationships, economic efficiency, and civic responsibility" is being sent to all parents to better acquaint them with what the school is trying to do. The parents are especially invited to visit the school during Education Week, cooperate with the teachers in re-dedicating the teaching profession and the people to the cause of education, and to look upon education as an investment and not as an expense. Three special programs will be featured during the week, high school Monday, upper elementary grades Wednesday, and the lower elementary grades Friday.

The Highlands School theatre gave two tickets to each of the elementary grades last week by way of advertising the 15 chapter serial which began at the theatre on October 28. The teachers of each grade awarded the tickets for the best competitive work being done in the respective grades. Some of the grades had health posters, others spelling, others arithmetic, etc. This week the theatre is giving away 200 pencils in the same manner and for the same purpose.

The third grade under the supervision of Miss Nina Howard, teacher, had charge of the chapel exercises on Friday morning. Sara Hall and Mary Gibson led the devotional. Recitations were given by Mattie Potts, Margaret Neely, and Edna Norton. Those taking part in "The Magic Jack-O-Lantern" play were Anne Anderson, Betty Potts, Martha Cobb, James Potts, Johnny Crunkleton, James Mack Edwards and Richard Thompson. There were also two songs by the entire third grade.

Each of the elementary grades had its own Halloween party. The seventh grade had prizes for apple-bobbing and pinning the tail on the black cat. Refreshments were served in all the rooms, the children bringing cookies, candies and apples.

Misses Mary and Charlotte Picklesimer left last Sunday for West Palm Beach, Fla., where they will spend the winter.

BIG DIFFERENCE

The area north of Washington and east of Pittsburgh eats nearly two-thirds of all the lamb consumed in the United States, yet this area produces only five per cent of the nation's lamb crop, says L. I. Case, extension sheep specialist at State college

HUGE BUSINESS

Agricultural cooperative marketing and purchasing associations are doing a gross business of $2,750,000,000 annually, according to Dr. G. W. Forster of State college. Membership and business of the purchasing cooperatives have more than doubled in the past 10 years.
