REPUBLICANS SCORE GAINS

Take 8 Senate and 70 House Seats; Elect 11 Governors

The results of Tuesday's election in many parts of the nation seem to indicate a severe setback to the New Deal.

The Republicans gained eight seats in the senate, 70 in the house, and won 11 new governorships, according to incomplete returns.

The Democrats elected Governor Lehman and Senators Wagner and Mead in New York, but lost the state assembly.

The President's friend and co-worker, Governor Frank Murphy, of Michigan, was defeated by former governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, and the Republicans also won gubernatorial and congressional prizes in Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Kansas, New Hampshire, New Jer-sey, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

California, however, elected a Democratic governor for the first time in 44 years, and also elected a Democratic senator, Sheridan Downey, but the Republicans gained two congressmen in that state. Californians also defeated the "Thirty Dollars Every Thursday" pension amendment.

The Republican gains were made at the expense of the Democrats, Progressives and Farmer-Laborites, and indicate that the G. O. P. is coming back strong, and will be
