MASS MEETING DRAWS CROWI

work of all agencies, was one of 29 organized in the 100 counties of the state. Mrs. Aycock announced that special emphasis was being made on the work for the youth of the state under the direction of John A. Lang, state director of the National Youth Administration, and urged cooperation of all agencies and citizens for the progress of this agency that is striving to bring opportunity to young people throughout the nation in education, vocation and citizenship.

Commodity Distribution

A. E. Langston, director of surplus commodities distribution explained the use of those commodities, especially foodstuffs, that were purchased by the government in depressed market conditions. These products, he said, were allotted to the states and distributed through the cooperation of the departments of welfare to the more needy families on the relief rolls. This, he explained, was an emergency measure that relieved the distress of farmers forced to sell below the cost of production and placed the surplus crops where they supplied the wants of the needy.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. I. L. Roberts, pastor of the church, and the benediction said by the Rev. Frank Bloxham. The church choir opened the meeting with the singing of one of the hymns of brotherhood and service; Mrs. Henry Cabe, presided at the organ, and Mrs. Frank Bloxham, accompanied by Mrs. B. W. Woodruff, sang a solo.

George B. Patton, newly elected representative to the state legislature, made the address of welcome.

A dinner, attended by the executive committee and other guests, was given to the visitors at Kelly Tea Room before the meeting.

MARY J. ALLMAN CIRCLE HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Mary Johnston Allman Cirde of the Franklin Methodist church, met at the home of Mrs. doy Cunningham on Thursday evening, November 10, for their regular monthly devotional and business meeting.

Miss Carolyn Nolen, Mrs. Jack Sherill and Mrs. Roy Cunningham presented the program which was followed by the business session.

The annual election of officers was in order and after the report of the nominating committee, Mrs. Zachary, president of the Woman's Missionary Society, who was a visitor, conducted the election.

The following officers were named for the year: Mrs. Carl Cabe, president; Mrs. J. R. Wells, vice-president; Mrs. Brooke Hayes, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Amos Harris, recording secretary; Miss Margaret Cozad, treasurer; Mrs. Roy Cunningham, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Rufus Joines, Miss Grace Baird, Miss Carolyn Nolen, Miss Adabelle Sherrill and Miss Kate Sellers, supérintendents of Christian social relations, supplies, mission study, publicity and baby specials, respectively; Mrs. I. L. Roberts, spiritual life leader, Mrs. C. D. Baird, Jr., secretary of young women's work and Mrs. Hayes Overcash, secretary of children's

Mrs. R. H. Hull, who with her husband, is doing missionary work for the American Sunday School Union, gave an interesting talk on the work they are doing in this section.

Mrs. Zachary explained the work of several of the new offices and announced that after the installation of the newly elected officers, the Society would be known as Auxiliary No. 2 of the church.

There were 22 members present and seven guests, several of whom expressed the wish to join the

After the adjournment the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Young, of Southbury, Conn., were guests of Mrs. C. C. Cunningham Wednesday and Wednesday night. They were enroute to Texas for a visit with their son, Don, and Mrs. Young, who was formerly Miss Nell Cunningham.

Births

A son, George Spear, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Marion Perce, at their home in Albuquerque, N. M., on Thursday, November 14. Mrs. Perce was the former Miss Katherine Hunnicutt, of Franklin.
