PUTTING ON POUNDS WITH Quaker PIG-N-HOG FEED

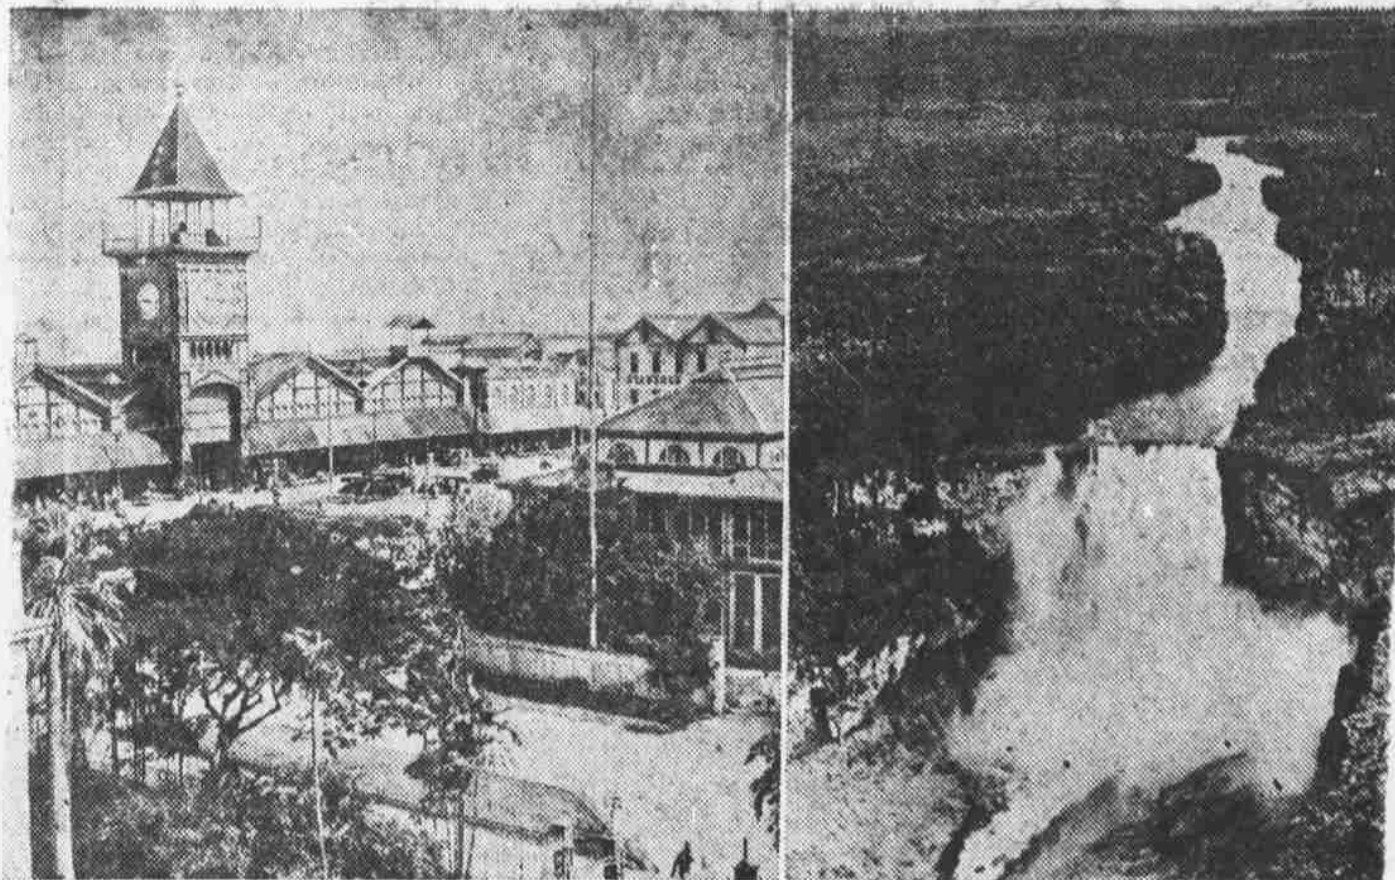

Pigs grow so fast and mature so early, putting on weight constantly, that they must have an adequate supply of the nutrients required to make this growth.

They get them all in Quaker Pig-N-Hog Feed—minerals, quality proteins, iodine and molasses. It is a balanced pig feed that grows big, well fleshed frames, maintains health and develops finished hogs that bring top market.

For more profit feed your pigs Quaker Pig-N-Hog Feed this year.

British Guiana to Become Jewish Refuge

Pictured at the left is part of Stabroek market in Georgetown, British Guiana, where plans have been made by Great Britain to lease at least 10,000 square miles in British Guiana to provide homes for German Jews seeking refuge from the Nazi regime's anti-Jewish campaign. At the right is an aerial view of Kaletew falls, of the same country, which is five times higher than Niagara falls, and one of the highest in the world.

Hawaiian Clippers Go to the Fair

Formerly located at Alameda, Calif., all base facilities for Pan-American Airways' Hawaiian clippers are being moved to the new Trans-Pacific airport at Treasure Island, site of the 1939 Golden Gate exposition, where an artificial harbor (see arrow) will become the permanent starting place for future flights to Hawaii and the Orient.

P.-T. A. Hears Reports Of Special Interest

At the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association last week, two reports of special interest were made.

Mrs. Frank I. Murray, librarian, gave encouraging news of the use of the Franklin library, especially concerning the number and character of books taken out by school children.

A paper on Adult Education by Mrs. Leona P. Duncan, who was unable to attend on account of illness, was read.

Mrs. Duncan reported some phases of the work being done by the Adult Education teachers, of whom she is head, in the county. "These have already reached and taught 376 illiterates since July 1, 1938, and about 600 near illiterates," Mrs. Duncan stated.

"Our objective in Adult Education is to stamp out illiteracy in Macon county by 1940."

Some of the activities now carried on to stamp out illiteracy were listed:

Forestalling illiteracy by keeping children in school. This is done through every contact possible, and in cooperation with Mrs. Eloise G. Franks, county superintendent of public welfare.

Austin Snyder and Wilbur Welch teach in the CCC camps of Aquone and Otto.

Miss Inez Smart is stationed in the WPA office, and meets and teaches those applying for relief.

Jesse L. Sanders teaches classes in first aid to all over 16 years who wish to attend.

All adult teachers act as visiting teachers in homes where children are absent from school, and cooperate with parents for their return.

A course in Arts and Crafts conducted by Miss Minnie Reese at Nonah Craft Shop.

Mrs. Duncan asked the P.-T. A. members to assist this work in every possible way by helping find those who might take advantage of the adult classes throughout the county.

A Thanksgiving program was presented by the second grade in which the following pupils took part: Patricia Childers, George B. Ramey, Ann Wright, Clara Jean Parrish, Ellwood Roberts, Mary Alice Archer, Betty Williams, Earleen Henson, Grady Green, Julia Ann Higdon, Jimmie Waldroop, Mildred Dalton.

McCLURE-WALLACE

Miss Susan McClure, daughter of Mrs. Charlie McClure, was married to Mr. Edwin Wallace last Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Presbyterian Manse, the Rev. J. A. Flanagan officiating.

The bride was attired in a becoming gown of teal blue with black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink rose buds.

Mrs. Wallace is a graduate of Franklin high school and of Athens Business college. For some time she has been employed by the county health department in Franklin.

Mr. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace, of Franklin, has just returned from Lyman, Wash., where he has been employed in the lumber business.

The couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short wedding trip.

CURTIS-FAIRCLOTH

Miss Wilna Curtis and Purdy Faircloth were quietly married in Clayton, Ga., on Saturday, November 12.

Mrs. Faircloth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Curtis, of Franklin Route 2. She is a graduate of the Franklin high school.

Mr. Faircloth is the son of Mr.

and Mrs. P. D. Faircloth, of Fayetteville, and is at present an enrollee of CCC Camp F-23 at Otto.

They were accompanied to Clayton by Miss Ella Moore, of Dillard, Ga., Route 1, and Mr. Carl Curtis, cousin of the bride, of Rabun Gap, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Faircloth will make their home at present at Carrington Hall, Franklin Route 2.

TWINS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY SUNDAY

Mrs. James R. Holbrook, of West's Mill, gave a dinner Sunday in honor of her twin daughters' birthday anniversary, Mrs. E. C. Childers of Whittier, and Mrs. T. M. Rickman of West's Mill, who have always been fortunate enough to spend their birthdays together each year.

Mrs. E. A. Blankenship, of Marion, was the guest of her brother, E. Y. Walker and Mrs. Walker in Franklin for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Rare Disease Takes Life of Young Woman

Miss Pansy Chandler, who has from time to time for the past few years, visited Miss Ruth Slagle, in Franklin, and who taught for a short time in Franklin high school a year ago, as a supply teacher in the French department, died in Aston Park hospital, Asheville, last Saturday, November 26, of a rare disease which physicians estimated occurs only once among 100,000 population.

Miss Chandler, who was 27 years of age, was given six blood transfusions in an effort to check the disease. She was suffering from myelogenous leukemia, a disease of the blood stream which results in an inordinate increase of white corpuscles over normal.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chandler, of Walnut, N. C. She and Miss Slagle were room mates at the University of North Carolina in 1934-35.
