

Missionaries Organize Sunday Schools

Mr. Carl Nungesser, of Knoxville, Tenn., district superintendent of the Middle Atlantic district of the Sunday School Missionary Union, with Mrs. Nungesser, and the Rev. G. M. Keazel, president of the ministerial association of Knoxville, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hull during the past week.

The work of the six Sunday schools that have been established in this vicinity by Mr. and Mrs. Hull since their missionary work was opened five months ago, was visited, and a meeting with lantern slides illustrating work in other fields was held at the Franklin Presbyterian church on Monday evening.

The Sunday School Union, with missions throughout the United States, seeks to reach the unreach- ed in the "byways of America," organizing Sunday schools in neglected areas, distributing Christian literature and ministering to the poor and needy in isolated rural sections.

Mr. and Mrs. Hull have established Sunday schools in the following locations: Turtle Pond, where a log building has been erected; Mountain View and Cowee Gap, Macon county; just over the line in Georgia, Fairview, Mud Creek, near Scaly, and Mount Tallulah. The last place is near Per- simmon, where 31 arrests were re- cently made for bootlegging, and where there are reputed to be buried 27 murderers in the grave- yard.

BETTER PASTURES

Limestone and triple-superphos- phate applied on pastures by dem- onstration farmers of Yancy county have extended the grazing period from 30 to 60 days and the cattle and sheep weigh from 10 to 15 pounds heavier due to this pasture treatment.

If You Lived On the Roof Instead of Under It

All of us are prone to give closer attention to things that are constantly before us. That's why floors generally receive more care than roof tops. But the roof is even more important than the floor, for a leaky roof results in serious damage to the whole structure. The wise home owner will keep his roof in good condition always.

If you have a roofing problem, consult us and we will be glad to help you solve it. Maybe your roof can be easily repaired. Maybe you need a new roof. In either instance we can be of service to you and will be glad to furnish free esti- mates—for repairs or for new roofs.
