French Army Rushes Tunisian Fortifications

Keystone of the French colonial empire in Africa, Tunisia is a plum highly prized by the Italian Fascists. Should it fall into Italy's hands, the Mediterranean could be closed easily to French and British communications. Fully aware of these strategical considerations, France has been openly rushing Tunisian fortifications. On the Mareth line, near the Libyan border, France has stationed 35,000 soldiers—Zouaves and the Foreign Legion. Italian troops in Libya are reported at 60,000. At the left French troops are camouflaging concrete pillboxes along the defense line, so they will blend with the surrounding desert. Right: This is a typical native soldier serving on the Libyan border.

RURAL LINES
In Union county 400 miles of electrical lines to serve 1400 rural homes will be constructed at once. The Union Mutual has been allotted $400,000 from the Federal REA to construct the lines.

LOW
Although the United States is confronted with a cotton surplus of more than 13,000,000 bales, it has less than 2,000,000 bales available for export during the six months ending August 1.

LOBLOLLY PINES
E. L. Morrison, Jr., of Concord bought a 50-acre farm east of Concord recently and when he found it badly eroded, he had the county agent to order 10,000 loblolly pines as the crop to grow. He expects to set more pines each year until the 50 acres is covered with trees.
