State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. Should any treatment be given sweet potato plants before transplanting?

A. Where soils are infected with stem rot or wilt organism, the stem and roots of the plants should be dipped in a 20-20-50 Bordeaux mixture or dusted with a mixture composed of 25 per cent monohydrated copper sulphate and 75 per cent lime just before planting. The scurf infected roots and stems should have a thorough coating of sulphur immediately before transplanting. All treated plants should be set in moist but not water logged soil.

Q. How can I prevent lice and mites from infesting my poultry flock?

A. The most effective prevention is to thoroughly clean and disinfect the poultry house. Crude petroleum, commercial carbolineum, coal tar stock dips, and a combination of equal parts of spent motor oil and kerosene are good for this work. Treatments for control of the different kinds of mites are given in Extension Circular No. 160 "Common Parasites of Poultry," and copies may be obtained

This small handbook, made up expressly for farmers, incorporates a wealth of valuable information that all farmers need in their everyday work. The Farm Guide Book also includes blank pages for operating records, enabling the farmer to keep an account of every penny of expense and income. The Farm Guide Book is available to farmers upon request to the Firestone Farm Service Bureau, Akron, Ohio; Firestone Tire Dealers; Firestone Implement Dealers; and Firestone Auto Supply and Service Stores.

Q. What is the best material for control of leaf spot and scorch in strawberries?

A. The best spray at present is a 4-4-50 Bordeaux mixture. The mixture calls for four pounds of copper sulphate (bluestone) and four pounds of chemically hydrated lime to 50 gallons of water. Smaller or larger amounts should be prepared in the same proportions. Dissolve the copper sulphate in one-third of the water, using a wooden, earthenware, or copper container. The lime is put in the remaining water and, when the two are prepared, pour the copper sulphate solution into the lime suspension. The two should be stirred constantly while mixing. Start spraying about the time plants resume active growth and continue until they assume relative dormancy.
