MR. AND MRS. A. W. HUDSON VISIT HIGHLANDS

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hudson, of White Plains, N. Y., were guests at the Potts House last week. Mr. Hudson is the son of Mrs. Ella Hudson, through whose efforts our present library was begun almost 60 years ago, the story of which is told by Mrs. Mary Chapin Smith in a 12-page booklet, "The History of the Hudson Library Association," printed in October 1931.

After Mrs. Hudson's death, her friends in the north sent the first books to her sister, Mrs. Wells, who lived at Shortoff at the time, and in presenting them to Highlands for a free library, Mrs. Wells asked that it be called Hudson Library in memory of her sister.

This was Mr. Hudson's first visit here in 55 years. He was very much pleased with what the present library has grown to be from its humble beginning in the old cupboard, with its six shelves, still in use at the school lunch room. Mr. Hudson left a very generous gift with the assistant librarian, Miss Dorothea Harbison, "to buy something for the library that it would not otherwise have."

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET HELD ON APRIL 12

The Highlands high school Junior-Senior banquet was held Wednesday night, April 12, in the school lunch room, which had been transformed into an old-fashioned garden by the lavish use of flowers and greenery. The program also featured the garden idea, and was as follows:

Toastmistress, The Man with the Hoe, Margie Waller; Toast to Seniors, Our Garden, Mozelle Bryson; Response, A Garland of Roses, Peggy Thompson; Talk on Toads, Snakes and Butterflies, Virginia Edwards; Toast to Faculty, Our Favorite Flowers, Margie Waller; Response, Flowers from an Old Bouquet, Miss Elizabeth Whiteside, Englist Teacher; Talk by O. F. Summer, Principal. The Lamb-Wilson Trio furnished the music during the banquet.

The garden idea was further carried out in the menu, under the supervision of Mrs. H. P. P. Thompson. The guests included the juniors, seniors, members of the high school faculty, and the Rev. and Mrs. R. B. DuPree.

WORLD'S FAIR SPONSORS ENTERTAINED IN HIGHLANDS

The eight sponsors chosen by Governor Hoey to represent North Carolina at the World's Fair in New York were visitors in Highlands last Thursday. They were met on the Franklin highway by a delegation from the Chamber of Commerce and escorted to King's Inn where an elaborate luncheon was served at 2 o'clock.

Coleman W. Roberts introduced his group of visitors, and O. F. Summer, president of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced the Highlands guests and made the address of welcome. Mr. Roberts stated that his group expects to cover 2,000 miles in visiting the principal cities and resort areas of the state, so that they may intelligently greet the visitors of the North Carolina exhibit, and answer any questions they are asked concerning the state. The visitors were furnished with a supply of descriptive literature.

Mr. King made an interesting talk on the natural beauty of Highlands, its resources as a playground, and the developments of the past 10 years, with special emphasis on the four hard surfaced highways which make Highlands a most accessible summer resort. Mr. King urged the group to stay over for the night so that they might see what an old-fashioned square dance in the Carolina mountains was like, but due to lack of time they were unable to accept his offered hospitality.

Those present at the luncheon in addition to the eight visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Marett, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney McCarty, Thad D. Smith, W. W. Edwards, F. H. Potts, Louis Edwards, O. F. Summer and R. R. King.

MRS. W. H. COBB ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. W. H. Cobb entertained the members of her bridge club at a luncheon on Wednesday, April 12, at her home on Satulah road. Covers were placed for 12. Jonquils and sprays of hemlock formed the flower arrangement for the dining table. The living room decorations were Easter lilies and jonquils.

Preceding the game, Miss Rebecca Nall gave the second of a series of short lessons on contract bridge. When the scores were totaled in the progressive game, Mrs. C. C. Potts was awarded the high score prize, a handmade handkerchief and a lovely costume jewelry pin. Miss Sara Gilder was final winner of the traveling prize, a pair of chifon hose.

BEARPEN ROAD BEING GREATLY IMPROVED

The Bearpen Mountain Development company, with the aid of the Town of Highlands and the State Highway department, is working on the Bearpen road, widening and otherwise greatly improving it. Frank B. Cook is the representative of the Development company in charge of this work.

RIDEOUT'S CALF ENLARGED AND REPAINTED

Rideout's Cafe on Main street, operated by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rideout, has been enlarged to twice its former size and the interior repainted. This cafe presents a very pleasing appearance with its green and white scheme, and it is prepared to give better service as well as a greater variety to its meals.

MISS FARNSWORTH QUEEN OF MEMPHIS CARNIVAL

Miss Elizabeth Phelps Farnsworth, of Memphis, Tenn., 22-year-old niece of P. T. Farnsworth, of Highlands, has been selected queen of the 1939 Cotton Carnival which takes place in Memphis May 9-14. The Cotton Carnival is to Memphis what the Mardi Gras is to New Orleans, and being elected to the queenship of the Carnival is the highest honor the mid-south can bestow upon a girl. This honor is especially fitting in the case of Miss Farnsworth whose forbears have been closely allied with cotton interests for generations, with the exception of her Highlands uncle, who is a retired newspaper man and writer.

The king and queen of the Cotton Carnival are chosen by a secret committee on previously established qualifications of popularity, personality and attractiveness.

Miss Farnsworth was presented to society in December, 1937 at an elaborate ball at the Memphis Country Club, and graduates from Vassar college in June of this year.

The coronation ceremonies will be broadcast nationally, and will of course be of interest to the people of Highlands, since Miss Farnsworth has more than once visited her uncle here.

The Highlands baseball team, in its first game of the season, scored a 20 to 11 victory over the Cashiers nine here last Sunday afternoon. Next Sunday's game between the two teams will be played at Cashiers.

Dr. Harold Bold, professor of botany at Vanderbilt University, is here doing research work, and for the present is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Marett, Mrs. C. C. Potts and Miss Rebecca Nall spent Tuesday in Asheville, going over on a shopping trip and to visit the Biltmore Estate.

The condition of Irvin Rice, who has been ill in an Asheville hospital for the past 10 days, is reported to be improved.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hays and family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Paul, and Herbert and Gene Paul were dinner guests of Mrs. Henry West at her home near Franklin last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cheshire Nash have returned to their home in Savannah after a 10 days' stay at their new summer cottage on Satulah.

Mrs. J. A. Hines left Tuesday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jack Justley, in Charleston, S. C., and to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Priscilla Justley, which takes place in the Presbyterian church there on April 22. Mrs. Hines will also visit her sister and daughter, Miss Lula Hinson and Miss Bess Hines at Kenansville before returning to Highlands.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Potts and family have moved into the J. E. Potts cottage on Fifth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wiley of Cherokee were week-end guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wiley.

Mrs. C. E. Mitchell is convalescing at the home of her mother in Hawkinsville, Ga., from a recent major operation in a Macon, Ga., hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Marett spent the past week-end in Atlanta and Smyrna, Ga.

Temporary Grazing Is Used By Dairymen

Planting of soybeans, sudan grass, lespedeza and sweet clover for summer and fall grazing should be in progress now and may be continued until mid-summer, advises John A. Arey, dairy specialist of the State college extension service, who says grazing of cultivated crops is an ideal way for dairymen to lower the production cost of milk.

This practice is especially valuable in areas where the soil is sandy, because in regions with clay soil the cows pack the ground when it is wet and it is hard to break for corn and other crops to follow, Arey explained.

Biloxi soybeans planted this month in rows about 24 inches apart and fertilized with about 300 to 400 pounds of a 3-8-6 fertilizer will provide abundant nutritious grazing by June, the specialist said. This variety of beans can be grazed three or four times during the summer at intervals of about 15 days if all the leaves are not removed at any one time. The cows should be alternated between pastures to prevent too close grazing.

Sudan grass should be seeded at the rate of 30 pounds per acre on good land and fertilizer with 400 pounds of a high grade complete fertilizer. It will furnish excellent grazing within about six weeks after seeding. Sudan grass is drought resistant and therefore will prove valuable in supplementing permanent pasture during the hot, dry period of July and August.

Lespedeza should have been sown on small grain in February or March. The Korean variety is one of the best for grazing. Sweet clover is not as palatable as lespedeza, but it will produce more grazing per acre than any of the crops previously mentioned. For the most part, soils in this state should be limited before sweet clover is planted.

CORN

Only about 9 per cent of the American corn crop, usually running from 2½ to 3 billion bushels, is used in the industrial field. One-half enters the food market and one-fourth goes back to the farm in the form of feed.
