

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. How often should I cultivate my tobacco after transplanting to the field;

A. Beginning about a week or 10 days after the plants are set, the tobacco should be cultivated at intervals of a week or 10 days up to a week before topping. The soil should be thoroughly broken and the middles scattered, care being taken, however, not to disturb the root system in siding. In case of a packing rain, the tobacco should be plowed just as soon as soil conditions will allow. This should be done even if the crop had been plowed one hour prior to the rain.

Q. Can I use skim milk with grain for finishing broilers?

A. Yes. Where skim milk or buttermilk is available, this procedure is very profitable. Soak the cracked corn overnight in either the skim milk or buttermilk and give the broilers all they will eat in two feedings. The feedings should be made in the morning and late in the afternoon. This feeding should be in addition to a good broiler mash and should be fed for the last 10 to 15 days of the conditioning period.

Q. How can I keep insects out of my garden?

A. There are two kinds of insects, chewing and sucking, that attack garden crops and there is a different treatment for each kind. The chewing insects are controlled through the use of arsenicals and the sucking insects by the use of contact insecticides. Full instructions for the preparation and use of these insecticides are given in Extension Circular No. 122 and copies of this may be had free upon application to the Agricultural Editor at State college.

Winter Clothes Must Be Stored Carefully

Warm weather means storage of coats and other winter clothing. J. O. Rowell, entomologist of the State College extension service, reminds housewives that careful storage of such articles is necessary to prevent destruction by moths and carpet beetles.

"In protecting clothing stored during warm weather, a pound of naphthalene or paradichlorobenzene crystals, scattered between thin layers of paper and placed at different levels in the clothing in a tight box or trunk will destroy any of the insects that may be present," Rowell advised. The chemicals are equally as effective for control of clothes moths and carpet beetles.

All articles to be stored should first be thoroughly cleaned, brushed, aired and sunned to get rid of any stray eggs or larvae of either carpet beetles or moths, the entomologist said. In a closet that is kept tightly closed, a pound of either chemical to about 100 feet of closet space prevents infestation. In explaining his mention of larvae, Rowell said that it is the early form of the insect that attacks clothing and furnishings containing wool hair, bristles, fur, feathers and other animal substances.

Egg Marks The Spot, Officer

Patrolman Harold Nickerson of the Detroit Police put his ticket book away when Betty Dane, Wayne University student, explained that her driving with an egg was only part of a sorority initiation stunt. She did it, too, without breaking the egg, by using a Chevrolet, in which vacuum from the motor supplies nearly all the power necessary in shifting gears with the new steering-column shift lever.

The extension specialist said it is easier to prevent carpet beetles and other insects than to kill them after they have infested a room or closet. In the routine of good housekeeping, rugs should be cleaned frequently on both sides to get rid of carpet beetles, Rowell said. Filling floor cracks with a good filler eliminates hiding places and makes housekeeping simpler, he added.

DECLINE

Although the United States was the world's largest exporter in 1938, it suffered a decline of 7.6 per cent in valuation of exports during the year.

Daily average sales of general merchandise in small towns and rural areas for March were about 17 per cent above March, 1938, and 15 per cent above February of this year.
