By MRS. JOE SETSER

Siler Arthur, who has been in the State of Washington for the past 13 years, is here visiting his sister, Mrs. Carl Slagle and brother, Hayne Arthur.

Rev. J. C. Swaim, assisted by Rev. Mr. Heffner, a Duke University student, is conducting a Vacation Bible school for small children, and a Cokesbury training school at night for the older folks, at Mt. Zion church.

Thomas Choate and Starr Neely, from Charlotte, are here visiting the Fred Slagles.

Mrs. Henry Slagle turned her peafowls out of their pen a few weeks ago, and they wandered away. The cocks were caught and brought back within a few days but the hen did not come back. Mrs. Slagle feared a fox had eaten her, but last Monday Chas. L. Blaine came by to tell her the hen was at his house. His son, Ted, brought her home on Tuesday and it was really pathetic and almost human, the way the birds rejoiced to get back together.

Gilmer and Fred Setser and their families spent last Sunday with their aunt, Miss Callie Setser.

Emma Lou Hurst is at Swannanoa this week attending the 4-H club camp.

Henry Greenwood has moved into his new house.
