By the Waters of Chemquassabamticook

Shoe Shine Boys Buy Flowers for Stricken Hero

Here's real hero worship. These New York shoe shine boys, who ply their trade around Madison Square Garden and Jack Dempsey's restaurant, sold enough extra shines to buy a bouquet of flowers for Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, who was stricken with peritonitis following a recent appendectomy. Jack was asleep at the time, but later saw to it that the flowers got a place of honor in his hospital room.

(Staves off Summer Slumps)

Being marooned in a sea of summer doldrums has gone definitely out of date and the summer slump has become obsolete as the dodo bird. That is, there's no summer let-down for merchants who do the right kind of advertising.

Now, for example in some stores July Clearance Sales are in full swing . . . much of what the housewife wants is on sale at prices lower than she'd thought to pay. You, too, can have the crowds at your store by a sincerely worded advertisement telling them of the bargains she may secure by visiting your store.
