Townsend estate overlooking beautiful Sunrise View, and expects to begin the construction of her new home there immediately. Linton Young of Atlanta has been employed as architect, and J. R. Phillips will be in charge of the erection of the building. Mrs. Holcomb occupied the Ruggles summer home in that section during the summer of 1938.

DINNER HONORS PROF. W. L. LIPPINCOTT

Professor W. L. Lippincott of Clincon College was honored with a surprise birthday dinner recently at his cottage on Mirror Lake. He was invited to come up for dinner at the home of a friend, and on reaching Highlands his companion of the evening, Dr. Furnow, also of Clincon College, suggested that they go by Mr. Lippincott's Mirror Lake home before going on to dinner. When they arrived, the house was in darkness and finding "Mehitabel," a dummy with the life-like face of a young girl, dressed in a Mother Hubbard and split bonnet standing before an open fire, which she had apparently just kindled, and a birthday greeting card in her extended hand, was to say the least, a wee bit disconcerting. But when the guests began popping up out of the darkness, Mr. Lippincott realized the dinner was to be in his own cottage.

A lovely two-tiered white birthday cake topped with numerous (?) red candles formed the table centerpiece for the delicious turkey dinner. Ten guests enjoyed the occasion.

MISS RAVENEL HOSTESS TO CARD CLUB

Miss Marguerite Ravenel was hostess to the Wednesday Card

Club last week at her home, Wolf Ridge. The living room where the three tables of players assembled was attractively decorated with cosmos and other fall flowers, and the mantle banked with bright autumn leaves. Miss Sara Gilder won high score prize, and Mrs. Frank B. Cook the traveling prize. The consolation prize went to Miss Bernice Durgin.

At the conclusion of the delightful game, tea was served in the dining room where a green and yellow motif was effectively carried out. A green pottery bowl of yellow button chrysanthemums centered the dining table, and on either side of this centerpiece were crystal candlesticks holding yellow tapers. Miss Ravenel was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Clare Ravenel.

The guests also enjoyed the view from the east porch of this home, lovely at any time, and magnificent at this season with the brilliant autumn coloring at its best.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR ENTERTAINED AT MANSE

Rev. and Mrs. R. B. DuPree entertained the members of the Christian Endeavor Union at a barnyard party at the manse on Thursday evening, October 19. The living room was decorated with autumn leaves, hay, hen nests, and rabbit nests. When the guests entered they were asked to register and to guess the number of peanuts and grains of candy corn in jars. The peanuts were won by Catherine Nollman and the corn by Newton Crunkleton.

The guests were then divided into two groups representing horses and cows, with Jack Potts leader of the horses and Wendell Cleveland leader of the cows. In the hay eating contest, using shredded wheat biscuit, Newton Crunkleton won for the cows. The sense of balance contest went to the horses, with Buddy Thompson winner. Jessie Potts won in the corn stringing contest for the horses, and the peanut relay race was also won by the horses.

Refreshments of cider and sandwiches were served in the dining room, where a tall haystack held the proverbial "needle." In the mad scramble between the horses and cows the haystack was soon demolished but the needle never found. A dancing monkey, given for the best imitation of a barnyard animal, was won by Buddy Thompson for the horses group.
