By MRS. F. E. MASHBURN
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Moses have moved from Duth Dills' home, in Franklin township to a house of Mrs. Fanny Moses in Sugarfork township.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mashburn have moved from A. A. Mashburn's to Ellijay township into the house formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. John Keener. The place is now the property of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Henderson.

On December 21, 1939, in Clayton, Ga., Miss Elmira Berry and Mr. Arley Hedden were married, and at the same hour and place occurred the wedding of Miss Marie Berry and Mr. Everett Hedden. The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Berry. The grooms are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hedden.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stiwinter has had measles. Aunt Lizzie Rogers, who is in her eighties, is recovering from measles.

There has been a regular epidemic of measles, flu, and colds in this section.

Jim Keener, who has been visiting his grandson, J. D. McCoy, at Glenville, is now at his daughter's, Mrs. C. N. Jones.

Mrs. Lester Mincey and young sons, Earl and Lloyd, of Ellijay, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Jones last week-end.

Next Sunday the Walnut Creek Sunday school plans to meet at 1 p. m. After the Sunday school a song service is to be held.

Tom Dills is on the sick list. We are sorry to report.

The soil conservation farmers had excellent attendance at their meet-

City of Flint Crew in Home Waters

Members of the crew of the City of Flint turn thumbs down on the banner with the pinwheel cross. The City of Flint arrived in Baltimore, Md., recently after an epic cruise which lasted 114 days. This Nazi flag was hoisted by the German prize crew put aboard to take the ship to Germany after its capture by a sea raider. The ship was later freed by Norway.

Poland's Conquerors Battle Cold Weather

Cold weather and blinding snowstorms in Poland have forced Germany's army of occupation in Poland to employ unusual methods to fight Old Man Winter. Left: A sentry on duty keeps warm with a sheepskin overcoat, according to the English censor, was stolen from a "poor Polish shepherd." Right: A German trooper's feet encased in woven straw overshoes in accordance with the Reich's "ersatz" campaign.

You know what our winter weather is like. You know the condition of our roads. Will consolidation of schools be of great advantage to pupils, patrons, teachers and tax payers? Why not place more of our well qualified teachers, who are out of a job, in our rural schools and let them carry on the work of the 8th and 9th grade pupils? Taxpayers, what is your idea?

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. What is the best ration for feeding pigs?
A. There is no one best ration, for it is possible to increase the net returns from the herd by selecting each season some combination of feeds that will make a well balanced, efficient ration at a minimum cost. A more or less standard ration that produces good results consists of corn, tankage or fish meal, and a mineral mixture. However, substitutes that are more economical can be made for some of the ingredients. The amount and kind of substitutes are given in Extension Circular No. 238, "Raising Hogs in North Carolina" and copies of this circular may be had free upon application to the Agricultural Editor at State college.

Q. Is it too early to plant garden crops in the open?
A. Spring plantings in the open depend primarily on the temperature requirements of the different crops. The hardy crops such as cabbage, kale, mustard, lettuce, pansley, spinach, onions, and the smooth-seeded garden peas will stand hard frosts and may be planted in the open six to eight weeks before danger of killing frost is over. Crops classed as half-hardy such as asparagus, beets, celery, turnips, radishes, chard, cauliflower, and Irish potatoes will stand light freezes, but usually should not be planted until three or four weeks before the date of the last killing frost. All warm season crops should not be planted until all danger of frost is past.

Q. When should broilers be started on a fattening feed?
A. Broilers are usually started on the fattening ration about seven to 10 days before they are to be sold. The birds should be approximately one and one-half to one and three-quarters pounds each when fattening begins. All other feed should be discontinued and a special ration given for the feeding period. However, this period should never extend more than 12 days. There are two recommended rations for the fattening period. The first contains six pounds of corn meal and four pounds of flour, standard middlings, or ground oats. The second ration is made by mixing six pounds of corn meal, two pounds of wheat shorts, and two pounds of ground oats. Skim milk or buttermilk should be used in either of these rations to mix a sloppy feed that will pour readily from a bucket.

New Disease Attacks Irish Potato Tubers

Here's a warning to North Carolina Irish potato growers from Howard R. Garriss, assistant extension plant pathologist of State college:
A new bacterial wilt disease, called "Bacterial King Rot," has attacked Irish potatoes in 26 states, and disastrous losses have been suffered in several areas. The disease is spread through seed potatoes; therefore, Tar Heel growers should be careful where they buy seed potatoes, and should take definite steps to control the disease when it is found.
The disease attacks the tubers, causing a grayish to brownish discoloration of the vascular ring, which is quite often followed by soft rot with a final loss of the whole tuber. Symptoms in the field are best detected 80 to 90 days after planting, or just before the tops begin to die. A rather sudden wilting of the tops take place with final browning and drying.
To prevent spread of the disease, Garriss recommends that the knife being used to cut the potatoes be sterilized frequently by dipping for a few seconds in a germicide disinfectant solution, or be dropped into boiling water for a short time. Experiments have shown that if you cut through a potato with ring rot, the next ten and sometimes more healthy potatoes cut with the same knife will become infected.
"If possible, get seed from a locality that is free from the rot," the extension specialist advised. "We, here at State college, will be glad to furnish the latest available information on disease-free sources. It is wise to buy from a state with a good certification system, and to buy with a flat money-back guarantee that the seed potatoes are not infected with ring rot. If you think the disease is present, treat the seed pieces by dipping them into a solution of Semesan-Bel or Mercural (prepared according to manufacturer's directions), and dry before planting."

His answer is complete, final, and unanswerable. He has that kind of an answer to every honest question of man. In this case He clearly states that one who lives under an established government, enjoying its protection, using its money in trade, and so forth, is to be loyal to every proper obligation to that government. God and the things of God must come first, but a right attitude toward God will reveal itself in a proper attitude toward government.

Why does not some nation realize that the answer to destructive political and social theories is—win the destructive agitator to a living faith in Christ and he will become your strongest force for God and country. The real answer to communism (and every other anti-Americanism) is Christ.
III. A Right Attitude Toward Our Neighbor (vv. 34-40).
We have talked a good deal of late about being good neighbors, and certainly everyone should do everything possible to encourage the good neighbor policy in his own community and throughout the earth. But why does not the good neighbor policy work? Read the parallel passage in Luke and you will see how man tries to dodge his responsibility. See Luke 10:29 and observe the answer of Jesus in Luke 10:30-37.
A good neighbor is not one who is seeking some kind of "You favor me and I'll favor you" arrangement. He does not see the barriers of race, creed, or color. He is ready to help anyone, anywhere, at any cost. It is recognized that only the man who loves God with all his heart will be able thus to love his neighbor as himself.
The world does not so much need treatises on neighborliness as the winning of men and women to faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thus to a whole-hearted love for God which will inevitably express itself in a love for his neighbor. When this comes to pass, we shall have true neighborliness in the world. Let us send the gospel to all nations, that they may become first of all good Christians, then good citizens, and good neighbors.

GOOD CITIZENS AND GOOD NEIGHBORS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 22:15-22, 34-40.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Matthew 22:39.

Character is determined by what a man is in his heart, not by the profession of his lips. This is eminently true in spiritual matters, for we know that it is not by much testifying, hymn singing, or even by church attendance that a man proves himself to be a Christian. The question is, is his heart right with God? It is also true in his relation to his country. Patriotism is not a matter of speech-making and flag-waving, but an inward devotion to the good of the nation. Most assuredly it is also true that being a good neighbor is not something accomplished by smooth talk or the shedding of a few tears; it is a matter of that right attitude toward our neighbor, whether he be the man next door or in China, which results in a sacrificial effort to serve and help him.

I. A Right Attitude Toward God (vv. 21, 37-39).

No man will make any real progress in the direction of being either a good citizen or a good neighbor until he has a right attitude toward God.

The questions which were asked of our Lord, and which brought forth such precious teaching from Him, were not asked in good will nor with a desire to glorify God, but rather to entrap or snare the Lord and thus give occasion for denouncing Him. Had the Pharisees, Sadducees, and Herodians (the ritualists, the rationalists, and politicians of our Lord's day) really known God and Jesus Christ, His Son, their problems of patriotism and neighborliness would have been solved in the light of His Word and, what is perhaps even more important, in His spirit.

Is not the crying need of our world today, gone mad as it has with misdirected and perverted patriotic fervor and forgetting all responsibilities of good neighborliness, that it should hear and heed the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ?

II. A Right Attitude Toward Government (vv. 15-22).

The subtle hypocrisy of the question in verse 17 lay in the fact that these leaders were not interested in knowing the truth, but only wanted to make Jesus out either to be disloyal to His own people because He advocated paying tribute, or a traitor to Caesar because He advised rebellion against taxation. They coated their clever bait with unctuous flattery, a device which is still common among those who would mislead God's people. Observe that even though they did not believe what they said, they did speak the truth about the Lord Jesus (v. 16).

His answer is complete, final, and unanswerable. He has that kind of an answer to every honest question of man. In this case He clearly states that one who lives under an established government, enjoying its protection, using its money in trade, and so forth, is to be loyal to every proper obligation to that government. God and the things of God must come first, but a right attitude toward God will reveal itself in a proper attitude toward government.

Why does not some nation realize that the answer to destructive political and social theories is—win the destructive agitator to a living faith in Christ and he will become your strongest force for God and country. The real answer to communism (and every other anti-Americanism) is Christ.

Tourist Trade

Valued At $100,000,000 To North Carolina

The tourist business is worth nearly $100,000,000 per year to North Carolina, John C. Baskerville, executive secretary of the Governor's Hospitality committee, told the Asheville Civitan club at a luncheon meeting at the George Vanderbilt hotel recently.

Motorists alone spent some $64,000,000 in the state during 1938. Mr. Baskerville said the United States department of the interior estimated, an increase of nearly 100 per cent over the amount spent the previous year.

"If all the persons traveling in North Carolina during 1939 had spent just one day in or near Asheville, spending $5 per day each, it would mean an expenditure of nearly a million and a quarter dollars per month," the speaker said.

The swift jump in the value to the state of the tourist business, Mr. Baskerville said, was due in part to the state's advertising program, which he reviewed briefly, praising the advertising committee of the state board of conservation and development.

On the basis of figures supplied by the United States department of commerce and the department of the interior, the speaker estimated merchants were paid $25,000,000 by tourists; cafes and restaurants got $21,000,000; hotels, tourist homes and tourist camps got $20,000,000, as did filling stations, bus lines, garages and railroads. The remainder went for entertainment and refreshment, he said.

Field Army To Give Facts About Cancer

No subject is surrounded with greater confusion, more ignorance and fear than cancer. Terror that may have been justified in 1900 is today as out of date as the spinning wheel.

Women have played a splendid role in combating tuberculosis, and in charity and public health drives. Now in this fight to replace fear and ignorance about cancer, with courageous alertness and positive action, women have another opportunity for fine service. The Women's Field Army is reaching into every city, town, and village in the country, helping to spread good news about cancer control.

Mrs. J. E. Perry, of Franklin, is captain of the Field Army unit in Macon county. Through talks to be given by qualified speakers, and literature to be distributed throughout the county, Mrs. Perry and her committee will bring to attention important facts and valuable information on cancer. Learn all you can about cancer, one of the greatest menaces of life, and thus protect yourself and your family.

According to club reports, 4-H Club boys of Cherokee county are displaying more interest in livestock and poultry projects this year than they did last year.

More than a million farms are now included in soil conservation districts organized during the past two years by farmers, with 400,000 more expected to come in shortly.
