250 Enumerators Will Take Census In Western Carolina

Approximately 250 enumerators will aid Uncle Sam in the eleventh congressional district when the decennial count of the population and the checkup on agriculture and housing begins April 2.

Charles Z. Flack of Forest City, supervisor for the district with headquarters in Asheville, said that this number of persons will be assigned to the 309 enumeration districts in the 13 counties.

The enumerators and alternates will be chosen from the 800 applicants who have passed preliminary examinations, Mr. Flack said. He expects to name the successful applicants in about 10 days.

Plans have been made to hold schools to give the enumerators additional training. Each will be required to pass two examinations before appointment.

Five Schools Planned
Tentative locations of these schools—they will last two to three days—are Asheville for Buncombe and Haywood counties; Forest City for Rutherford and McDowell; Hendersonville for Henderson, Polk and Transylvania; Sylva for Jackson and Macon, and Andrews for Cherokee, Graham and Clay.

The schools will get under way at about the time those selected to attend them are named, Mr. Flack said.

Four reels of motion pictures showing the proper method of obtaining interviews and getting the information necessary for the census will be shown at the schools.

The enumerators will be paid according to the number of names and schedules they turn in, Mr. Flack said. Their pay is expected to average about $80 per month. Plans call for the census to be completed during the month of April, and the population figures will be announced as they become available.

It will not be necessary for each member of the family to answer individually all the questions to be asked, Mr. Flack said. The head of the house, or some other responsible person, may answer for all in the household.

Questions On List
Among other things the ennumer-

ator will want your full name, your relation to the head of the house, a personal description such as the color of hair and eyes, your weight and height, age, place of birth and residence on April 1, 1935.

That last question is to give the statisticians some idea of the extent of migration from one section to another during the past five years.

If you are 14 years of age or older the enumerator will want to know if you were at work for pay or profit in private or non-emergency government work during the week of March 24-30.

If not, were you seeking work? How many hours did you work during the last week of March if you had a job? What was the duration of your work, (in weeks), during the past five years up to March 30? What class of work are you in, and how many weeks did you work during 1939?

Other questions to be asked include the amount of wages or salary (including commissions) you received last year. This effects only those making less than $5,000 and does not include the professional man or the man in business for himself, Mr. Flack said. The government also will want to know whether you had outside income of $50 or more during the year.

Questions On Other Lines
There are additional questions which you may or may not be asked. The enumerators are taking a "sample" along with the regular census, and will question every twentieth person along other lines.

If you are one of these five per cent you will be asked, if foreign born, what country as of January 1, 1937, you are a native of, whether you are a veteran of the U. S. military forces, the wife, widow or child under 18 of a veteran.

The enumerator will want to know your social security status, your usual occupation, the industry in which you work, and what "class" worker you are.

If you are a woman he will want to know whether you have been married more than once, your age at the time of your first marriage, and the number of children you have had.

Questions For Farmers
Should you be a farmer there will be additional questions. The enumerator must know whether you are owner, tenant or manager, the amount of your acreage and its value, the mortgage debt and taxes on the land.

He will want to know how much you earned in wages while working off the farm last year, whether you did any business through a co-operative, the number of persons who worked for you—members of the family and others—last year, how much you spent on the farm.

Other questions concern farm machinery and facilities, soil improvement crops, whether you had a crop failure, double-cropping, the amount of livestock you have and what livestock products you grew, crops harvested last year and the value of vegetables grown on the farm and used in the home.

In the housing census you must give the location of the house, characteristics of the structure and its type, the time it originally was built, whether you own or rent it, its value or the rent you pay.

Other Information Sought
You must say whether it is a one, two, three or larger family dwelling, whether it needs major or minor repairs, the type of water supply, whether you have toilet facilities and a bath tub, give the principal lighting equipment.

The enumerator will want to know whether you have a radio, a refrigerator, how you heat the house, the principal fuel used in both heating and cooking.

Other questions will concern whether the house is mortgaged and the amount of the mortgage, what your regular payments on the mortgage are—monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually—the rate or interest paid, whether your payments are reducing the principal, and the name of the holder of the mortgage.

Buncombe will have 93 enumeration districts. Those set up for other counties in the district are: Cherokee 19, Clay 7, Graham 6, Haywood 26, Henderson 24, Jackson 21, McDowell 22, Macon 17, Polk 10, Rutherford 38, Swain 13 and Transylvania 13.

Mr. Flack said that the census is expected to show that there are approximately 132,000,000 persons, 7,000,000 farms and 33,000,000 housing units in the United States.

New Hired Hand: Well, boss, what time do I have to git to work mornings?

Farmer: Oh, any time you like, jus so's it ain't later'n half-past four.

He:—I love you.
She:—Really?
He:—But don't tell your husband.
She:—Why?
He:—It might get back to my wife.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. What lawn mixtures are adapted to different sections of the state?

A. For the coastal plain, a mixture of 2.6 pounds of Italian rye grass, 0.3 of a pound of white clover, and Bermuda grass root cuttings is recommended. For the piedmont and mountain sections, a mixture of 1.3 pounds of Kentucky blue grass, 0.7 pounds of redtop, and 1.3 pounds of Italian rye grass is recommended. Each of these mixtures will seed 1,000 square feet of lawn.

Q. When should beef cattle be bred?

A. It is advisable to allow the bull to run with the cow herd in May, June, and July, and the calves will all arrive in February, March, and April the following year. There are several advantages for having the calves come at this time of the year. Dry cows can be much more easily and cheaply wintered than cows nursing calves. Winter and early spring calves usually grow off faster and make better animals than calves dropped in the summer and fall. Calves dropped close together in the spring of the year can all be weaned at the same time. Their uniform ages makes it possible to pasture, house, and feed them together.

Q. What is the nature of, and the control for, the rust which often attacks leaves and fruit of apples?

A. Rust is one of the oddest diseases affecting the apple. The parasite which causes this disease spends part of its life cycle on the apple and part on the common red cedar tree. The presence of both of these plants is essential to the existence of the rust parasite. Elimination of the red cedar trees for a distance of one-half mile or more from the orchard is the only practical method of controlling apple rust.

Distinctive Uniforms Worn By 4-H Members

Wider use of the distinctive 4-H Club uniforms is being urged by L. R. Harrill, 4-H Club leader of State college. All members attending the annual 4-H Short Course at State college July 22-27 will be required to wear uniforms.

Miss Willie N. Hunter, extension clothing specialist, and her assistant, Miss Julia Mdiver, have designed the North Carolina 4-H uniforms, which are of the same general style as used in all other states.

The girls' uniform consists of green broadcloth, with white collar and facing, green thread, white simulated patent leather belt, side fasteners, and white pearl buttons for cufflinks. A white hat and a pair of comfortable, white walking shoes complete the outfit.

The boys' uniform is a white shirt, white duck trousers, black shoes, black tie, and black belt.

Many girls make their uniforms as a part of a clothing project, although this is not a requirement.

Harrill insisted that 4-H members wear their uniforms at outstanding events. The calendar of club events for 1940 starts with leaders' training schools at the Millstone 4-H Camp May 7-11, at a place in Eastern North Carolina yet to be designated May 14-18, and at the Swannanoa 4-H Camp May 21-24.

The State Older Youth Conference will be held at State college June 4-8, and the National 4-H Camp is scheduled in Washington, D. C. June 12-19. Following the short course, the Wildlife Conservation Conference will be held August 27-31, and the State Dress Review at State college on October 4. The State Fair, in which 4-H members participate, will be held this year October 8-12.

S. S. Association To Meet At Holly Springs

The Macon County Baptist Sunday School convention will be held on Sunday afternoon, March 24, at the Holly Springs Baptist church.

The program which is scheduled to begin at 2:30 o'clock will open with a congregational song, followed by the devotional led by Herbert A. McGlamery, of Franklin. The Lord's Acre movement will be the topic used by the Rev. Dumont Clark. The Rev. J. G. Benfield, pastor of the Highlands Baptist church, will deliver the principal address of the afternoon.

A large delegation is expected to attend from all churches in the county. The public is invited to attend.

The great cathedral of Cologne in Germany, which was begun in 1248, was completely neglected from the fifteenth century until 1823. It was finally completed in 1880, more than six centuries after it was started.

A man boasted that he had been in every hospital in town. "Impossible!" said a friend. "What about the maternity hospital?" "I was born there."
