MISS SARA GILDER HOSTESS TO CARD CLUB

Miss Sara Gilder entertained the Wednesday Card Club last week at dessert bridge, carrying out St. Patrick's Day colors. A bowl of forsythia and fern formed the table centerpiece, on either side of which were silver candlesticks holding lighted green tapers. The green and white motif was further carried out in the dessert. Favours were shamrock boutonnières.

The day preceding the party was Miss Gilder's birthday anniversary and as a surprise to her the guests sang "Happy Birthday to You" as they gathered around the dining table. The song was followed by individual birthday wishes, the two most original wishes being made by Mrs. J. A. Hines and Mrs. T. C. Harbison.

Vases of pussy willows, forsythia and jonquils lent added charm to the living room where the three tables of players assembled for a very interesting game. Mrs. H. G. Nazi Grenadiers Operate Modern Trench Mortar

Obeying the first rule for longer life on the western front, these two German soldiers are keeping their heads down low as they operate a trench mortar designed for hurling grenades. The mortar saves a great deal of wear and tear on the arms, and gets a much longer range than can be attained by hand-throwing. The grenades may be sent on their way while the soldier is lying in comparative safety. The mortar guns are well adapted to trench warfare and are used by both allied and Nazi forces.

Electricity KEEPS PEACE IN THE FAMILY

Or—How Mary and John solved their difficulty . . . and bought an Electric Range.

This is a story that's not all fiction. It might happen in your home or your next door neighbor's. And there's only one moral . . . many of today's living problems can be easily solved with the aid of your most modern servant—Electricity.

- "My, but you're an enchanting companion, Mary!"
"Spare the sarcasm, John. If you knew the day I've got ahead of me . . ."
- "Listen, Mary, I've got a job to do too, but I'm not complaining."
"Oh, no, and everything in your office is as modern as tomorrow's newspaper."
John's modern office equipment speeds up production and efficiency. One of today's efficient automatic electric ranges would do the same in Mary's kitchen . . . and leave her more leisure time!
- "Look, John, this headline might have been written for us! 'Electricity Keeps Peace In The Family.'"
"Hmmm. An Electric Range . . . Small down payment . . . Easy terms . . ."
- "That message is important, Mary. I don't know why it never occurred to me!"
"John, you're a dear . . . Let's choose our Electric Range today!"
