Mountain Climbing Grows Popular In W. N. C.

(From News and Observer)
 To promote close relationships with venturesome mountain climbers and other getting thrills from hazardous pursuits in the Great Smoky Mountains and other national parks, Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes has approved recommendations made by National Park Service Director Arno B. Cammerer for their safety.
 Calling attention to the fact that mountain climbing in the Great Smoky Mountains and other ranges is increasing, Director Cammerer declared that in general it would be inadvisable to impose restrictions as most climbing and other hazardous pursuits are performed outside the range of effective control. However, under the plan, superintendents in the mountainous national parks would maintain closer relationships with climbers and mountaineering clubs and cooperate in making mountain climbing safe and enjoyable.
 Persons wishing to engage in climbing or related hazardous ventures will be encouraged to register voluntarily with the park superintendent both before and after each venture. To stimulate interest in registration, an official record of certificate of accomplishment would be made available to those giving proof of their feat, a practice long in effect at Mount Rainier, Wash. Registration would be limited to these questions: name, address, age, experience, equipment and supplies, membership in mountaineering clubs, plan of route, leaving and returning date and time.
 The park ranger assigned by the superintendent for the purpose would discuss with the would-be climbers the wisdom of the proposed climb. Director Cammerer declared he believed more persons would be dissuaded from undertaking ventures for which they are not prepared, through friendly discussion, than would be possible by prohibitory regulations. Another advantage to the climber, it was pointed out, would be the assurance that a rescue party would be sent in the right direction in the event of a mishap.
 The National Park Service also will make arrangements whereby climbers and mountaineering clubs may obtain advice from the rangers on actual conditions, the best routes from various standpoints, possible dangers, climbing techniques, and the manner in which prospective climbers must protect themselves while attempting hazardous ventures.
 It is emphasized that this plan of operation is for the purpose of promoting public safety while at the same time attempting to satisfy the reasonable desires of qualified climbers, and to discourage the foolhardy.

 CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS
 At 11:15 Friday Morning, May 3, Mr. Donnahoe will discuss his platform of common sense in Government, including—
THE NEW TOWNSEND OLD AGE PENSION PLAN THAT PROVIDES:
 UNIFORM PENSIONS OF APPROXIMATELY $52 A MONTH TO ALL MEN AND WOMEN WHO ARE 60 YEARS OF AGE AND OVER AND WHO ARE UNEMPLOYED; TO BE FINANCED BY AN EQUITABLE AND EVENLY DISTRIBUTED GROSS INCOME TAX. SALARIES AND WAGES AND INCOMES UP TO $3,000.00 A YEAR ARE EXEMPT FROM THE TAX.
IT WILL:
 Retire The Old-Aged
 Create Jobs For Youth
 Raise Wages
 Help Business
 Circulate Money
 Create Purchasing Power
IT CAN ONLY PAY OUT WHAT IS TAKEN IN. IT CANNOT INCREASE THE NATIONAL DEBT. IT WILL LOWER TAXES. IT IS "PAY AS YOU GO PLAN". IT REPEALS THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT. IT IS JUST, EQUITABLE, AND DEMOCRATIC, AND ABOVE ALL IT IS COMMON SENSE.
THE NEW Townsend Bill is now pending in Congress. 101 Congressmen voted for it last year. This is about 25% of the membership of Congress which indicates that the NEW Townsend Plan is going to be enacted into Law. THE GROSS INCOME TAX IS FEASIBLE. IT IS WORKING IN INDIANA, HAWAII, FRANCE AND ITALY. SWEDEN HAS A UNIFORM PENSION OF $60.00 AT 60. WHAT SWEDEN CAN DO—AMERICA CAN DO. HELP THOSE WHO ARE TRYING TO HELP YOU.

 Mr. Donnahoe will speak in Franklin Saturday afternoon in front of the courthouse at 2 o'clock. (Adv.)

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. What are the requirements to participate in the AAA garden benefits?
 A. The garden shall consist of not less than one-tenth of an acre for each person in the family and all should be planted as one unit. However, not more than one acre will be required for any one family. On this plot, a minimum of 10 different kinds of vegetables must be produced during the year. In addition to the acreage and vegetables produced, the garden must be adequately protected from poultry and livestock. It is recommended that three or more kinds of vegetables be grown in each month for at least eight months and that not more than one-fourth of the garden be planted to any one vegetable at any one time.
 Q. How much skim milk may be substituted for other ingredients in poultry feeds?
 A. Skim milk, clabber, or buttermilk may be substituted for all dried milk products, one-half of the fish meal, and one-half of the meat meal recommended for the poultry ration. When the substitution is made for these amounts, three gallons of the skim milk or other products should be fed per day to each 100 hens. The success of these substitutions will depend upon the regularity with which the milk is fed. Unless there is an ample supply available at all times no substitutions should be made.

Housecleaning Hints Given By Home Agent

Spring housecleaning is a duty facing homemakers at this time of the year, and Miss Current, state home demonstration agent of the agricultural extension service, has several suggestions to make the job easier.
 In the first place, she says housecleaning should be organized. Just one room at a time and the job well done is her advice. Then she offers the following hints:
 Window cleaning may be well done by using paper instead of a cloth. Choose soft paper that does not lint. Various cleaning preparations may be used with either paper or cloth. Clear water with a few drops of ammonia, or clear water with about one tablespoon of washing soda dissolved in the pail make efficient cleansers. On very cold days the cloth may be moistened with alcohol or good kerosene. Windows should be cleaned when the sun is not shining on them directly, as it causes uneven evaporation of the cleanser and gives a streaked surface.
 For cleaning of varnished or oiled woodwork, the following mixture is good: One quart of hot water, three tablespoons of boiled linseed oil, and one tablespoon of turpentine. Wash the woodwork with a soft cloth wrung out in this mixture, kept warm by setting over hot water. Do not heat directly on the stove because the turpentine is inflammable. Polish the woodwork dry with a second cloth. Discard the mixture as it becomes soiled and mix a fresh supply.
 Give upholstered furniture a good sun bath at least twice a year. This will prevent moths, especially if the upholstery is kept free of dust or frequent brushing.

Anglers Lured to W. N. C. By Opening Of Streams

Anglers from many parts of the United States have been attracted to western North Carolina during the past fortnight by the opening of trout streams throughout this section on April 15. Streams which have been stocked with brook and rainbow trout to the number of a million and a half fish per year, are rapidly becoming objectives for anglers from many states. The clear mountain trout streams provide an ideal home for brown, rainbow and brook trout and the scenic beauty of this section lends an added attraction for the angling visitor.

Orchards Are Robbed By Vegetative Growth

Robbers! Thieves! That is what H. R. Uiswonger, horticulturist of the State college extension service, calls weeds, grass, and other vegetative growth left in the orchard during the summer months. He explains that such plants take from the orchard trees much-needed moisture.
 "Now is the time to begin the conservation of soil moisture by suppressing all vegetative growth in the orchard," Uiswonger said, "especially that part over the root area."
 It has been estimated, he stated, that the loss of water from bearing trees of an acre of orchard amounts to 20 barrels daily from June to September. This can be attributed to leaf surface where moisture is lost and to the developing fruit, which, when matured, contains about 85 per cent moisture.
 "Cultivating the ground as early as possible and continuing such cultivation until late in the summer will aid in the conservation of moisture and make more available the nitrogen supply," the horticulturist declared. "When the orchard is located on land subject to severe soil erosion, it is advisable to cultivate every other middle and reverse the practice the next year.

 "Many orchards are located on sites where cultivation can not be practiced. In this case, all weeds and grass growth should be cut frequently and left to remain over the tree root area. If left to grow and form seeds, these crops rob the fruit trees of moisture and nitrogen."
 Uiswonger also recommended that each tree be fertilized with mineral nitrates about a month after the fruit has set, since next year's crop depends upon the nitrogen and moisture supply.

Profits And Fertilization
 It is just as much work to prepare a seed bed, plant and cultivate an acre of corn which yields forty bushels to the acre as an acre which yields one hundred.
 You use the same plows, harrows, and cultivators. You can guess the reason for the difference. Yes, one crop was properly fertilized, the other unfertilized.
 Your profits come from making the soil produce the maximum of quality crops. You are working for these profits so why not get them?
