

Valuable Prizes Given At End Of Missing Word Contest

New Entrants Have Good Chances To Win Prize

Have you seen the prizes to be awarded to the winners of the big missing word contest? If not you should stop by Jamison's jewelry store next to the post office and take a look at them. There are a diamond ring and three wrist watches, as described in the conditions of the contest printed at the head of the advertisements on this page. There is no catch in this contest. No obstacles are placed in the way of any of our readers to be a winner. All that is required is that you read each "ad" carefully to detect what word is missing. Indeed, the method is like many exercises in grammar that school boys and girls do easily. The replies must be neatly written, and sent in to The Press office, each week, either in person or by mail. Changes Each Week There will be some changes in the missing words each week, which will make the guessing more interesting to those following the contest through the whole period. The more answers one person sends in the greater is the chance of winning. Be sure you take your chance to win one of the handsome prizes. Begin this week, you have a good chance to win.

By MISS RUBY HOPKINS
Mr. and Mrs. John Elard of South Carolina visited here last Sunday.
Mrs. Gladys Gibson of Cullasaja visited her father and mother last week.
Mrs. Sam Hopkins left Sunday for Belton, S. C. where she will spend some time with relatives and friends.
L. T. Norris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Norris is suffering from a broken arm he received Tuesday evening.
Miss Pauline Rogers who is employed by Lawrence Penland of Hickory Knoll, visited her home Sunday.

Concession At Cliffside Lake In Operation
The bathhouse concession at Cliffside Lake, which has been leased to John Edwards, of Highlands, for the summer, is now in full operation. A full stock of candies, cold soft drinks, sandwiches, and cigarettes is on display. Facilities for checking clothes and valuables for bathers are also available. A nominal charge for checking clothes, for towels, for rental of bathing suits, and for use of bathhouse is made. Undressing on the grounds and draping of clothes on benches about the area are prohibited, and clothes found outside the bathhouse will be taken to the bathhouse by the caretakers. The general public is requested to avail themselves of the accommodations provided.

GREATER
United States exports to Soviet Russia in the first seven months of the war have been 81 per cent greater than in the equivalent period in 1938-39, according to the U. S. Commerce Department.
