the Thomasville Times is of interest, since all members of the wedding party are summer home owners here.

"In the presence of the families and a very few intimate friends Miss Leonce Wall, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles K. Wall of Thomasville, became the bride of Mr. John LeGuir Many of New Orleans, on Wednesday, August 14. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Father Benedict of St. Augustine Parish in the church at nine o'clock.

Decorations at the altar were green trailing ferns, used as a background for burning tapers, with white gladioli and carnations effectively arranged to give the scene the white and green coloring typical of wedding ceremonies.

Miss Wall was lovely in a morning dress of aqua print chiffon with matching redingote and turban of charmingly simple design. She wore a dainty corsage of orchids and valley lilies. Accompanied by her father, Dr. Charles K. Wall, she was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Harry McCall of New Orleans. Her only attendants were Miss Peggy Polhill, maid of honor and her younger sister, Miss Madeline Wall, bridesmaid. Miss Polhill wore rust wool, made with redingote and Miss Wall, golden yellow wool of the same fashion. Both charming young ladies wore corsages of roses.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the assembly hall at the Country Club where the bride's table was decorated with white gladioli and pink roses, the central figure of the table being a three-tiered wedding cake of exquisite design.

Mr. and Mrs. Many came to Highlands for their wedding trip, and will make their home in New Orleans.

INTERESTING GUESTS AT TRICEMONT

Dr. Oscar E. Weigert, his wife, Dr. Edith Weigert and their young son, of Chevy Chase, Md., are interesting guests at Tricemont Terrace for a month.

Edith Weigert, M. D. and Psychiatrist, is connected with the Sheppard & Enoch Pratt hospital in Baltimore, Md., one of the oldest private hospitals in the country for mental diseases. She formerly held a similar position in the University of Berlin.

Dr. Oscar Weigert is professor at the American University at Washington, D. C., a Methodist institution, and his special field is social security. Dr. Weigert has dealt with the same things in Germany and in the International Labor offices in Geneva. The Weigerts emigrated to this country in 1938, and prior to that time had lived for some years at Ankara, Turkey, where Dr. Oscar Weigert assisted in forming the Turkish Labor Legislation. He finds his diversified experience very helpful in his teaching work at Washington.

Although widely traveled, the Weigerts say they have found no place more beautiful or delightful than this section, stressing the friendliness and politeness of the people here, as well as their very pleasant stay at Tricemont Terrace.
