LAST RITES HELD FOR A. R. MORELAND

10

Final rites for A. R. Moreland, who was killed instantly Wednesday, October 2, through contact with a high voltage wire while working on the Glenville dam project, were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church the very small children as they here. The services were conducted by Rev. J. S. Higgins, pastor, assisted by Rev. J. G. Benfield, pastor of the Baptist church, and Rev. R. B. DuPree, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial was in the Zachary family cemetery at Norton, where the Masons took charge of the services.

Pallbeaers were Tudor N. Hall, Jack M. Hall, Thomas C. Harbison, Sidney McCarty, E. A. Burt, Jr., and Elwood Doudna, Flower bearers were Mrs. Thomas C. Harbison, Mrs. Tudor N. Hall, Mrs. served a salad course assisted by E. A. Burt, Jr., Mrs. C. C. Potts her daughter, Miss Nancy Hines. and Mrs. Wilton H. Cobb. The music was in charge of Mrs. Jack M. Hall and Mrs. R. B. DuPree and the ten-member choir, selected from the four churches here, sang "Crossing the Bar," "Peace, Perfect Peace", and "Abide With Me", accompanied at the organ by Mrs. A. C. Holt.

Friends and relatives of the family from Jackson county and this community overflowed the small church. The many beautiful floral at their home "Shadow Lawn" on offerings were banked along the Fifth street. Miss Thornton will chancel, and the choir stall, and as return home Sunday to begin her to warrant a sound farm plan. , a fitting tribute to Mr. Moreland's overseas service during the World War, the casket was draped with a United States flag.

ANNUAL CHURCH SUPPER HELD AT HIGHLANDS INN

Members of the First Presbyterian church held their third annual supper at Highlands Inn Thursday evening, October 3, with approximately one hundred members and friends of the church present.

Vases of Marigolds and nasturtiums were used at intervals along the bansuet tables. The supper was prepared and served by members of the Woman's Auxiliary. The pastor, Rev. R. B. DuPree, gave the invocation and the congregation joined in singing the doxology, as an opening song.

Sidney McCarty spoke on the work of the church, Sunday School, and Christian Endeavor, Mrs. S. L. McCarty, Sr., talked on the work of the Woman's Auxiliary; Miss Jessie Potts told of the work of the young people, and Miss Anne Anderson gave an interesting account of the work being done by the Junior Christian Endeavor. The talks were interspersed with piano selections by Mrs. O. F. Summer and Mrs. Louis Edwards, A feature of the evening was a song by gathered around the piano.

Miss Louise Dillard and Dick Goodyear of Atlanta were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A.

Edwards and Miss Estelle Edwards.

"Applicants should also be able to satisfy the FSA that they are dependable and physically able to perform gainful work, and that they cannot get adequate credit on reasonable terms through regular credit channels.

"Through debt adjustment, loans suited to the needs of the individlal family and guidance in approved farming practices, county supervisors of FSA, located in almost every county, stand ready to help all eligible farm families," Mr. Swift points out.

"Farmers have from one to five years to repay the loan. Amounts loaned to buy livestock, fencing and other capital goods useful for several years may be repaid in installments ranging up to 5 years. Loans for non-recoverable goods, such as seed and fertilizer are repayable in one year. In certain cases, where money is loaned for permanent improvements, as much as 10 years is allowed. In cases of inadequate rental arrangements or where other conditions fail to justify a long-range farming program, FSA can make rehabilitation loans for seed and farm supplies for repayment in one year. But the long-range plan is the one preferred, as time is an important element in satisfactory rehabilitation. Where these short term loans are made, they are made to take care of emergency situations and with hope that a long-range plan can eventually be worked out."

"There is serious danger in the practice of overloading an automobile," he declared. "In the first place, when three or four people are jammed into the front seat, the driver does not have sufficient room to operate the car safely, due to the difficulty of shifting gears and using the brakes. And on top of that, when there are too many people in a dar, the driver has too many distractions and can not very well keep his or her mind on their driving."

Hocutt cautioned all car owners against overloading their automobiles, and he particularly urged that parents who allow their teenage children the family car to, go to a football game, dance or other school activity should admonish their children not to take along any greater number of persons than the car was designed to accommodate.
