Hold District Auxiliary Meeting Saturday

Mrs. L. B. Nichols, of Andrews, was elected chairman of the annual group conference of the Auxiliaries of the Presbyterian churches of District No. 3, at a meeting held with the local church here Saturday.

Mrs. C. W. Savage, of Murphy, retiring chairman, presided over the meeting. Following the registration, music and opening service, Mrs. Gus Leach welcomed the delegates. The response was made by Mrs. T. C. Gray, of Hayesville.

The Rev. J. A. Flanagan was in charge of the worship services. All around the assembly—a message from the Presbyterian president—Miss Kitty Sue McElroy, of Weaverville, using as her topic Stewardship Study, Intensive Bible Study, Continuing the Evangelistic Crusade, Joint Mission Season, and Campaign for Assembly's Training School for Lay Workers.

A skit, "Presenting Literature," was presented by Mrs. J. A. Flanagan, Mrs. Ben McGlamery, Mrs. J. Ward Long, Miss Elizabeth McGuire and Ann Flanagan.

Special vocal music was given by Mrs. Elmer Crawford and Miss Helen Moore.

Mrs. R. D. Bedinger, of Asheville, made a talk on "Continuing the Evangelistic Crusade."

A luncheon was served at the Tavern to the 50 or more ladies attending from Murphy, Bryson City, Hayesville, Andrews and Highlands.

The next meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church in Hayesville.

Duck Season Opens Next Saturday

North Carolina duck season will open on Saturday, November 2, and continue through Friday, December 27, it has been announced by J. Fred Bryson, county game warden.

He reminded all duck hunters to be sure to buy their duck stamp before opening fire.

Girl Scout Notes

All Girl Scouts will meet at the Girl Scout house Tuesday afternoon, immediately after school, for a general meeting.

The Mountain Laurel Patrol met Thursday afternoon at the home of their leader, Mrs. John Wasilik. Plans were made for knitting for the Red Cross and for selling Christmas cards. They elected new officers as follows:

Patrol Leader—Mary Frances Page; assistant Patrol Leader—Elizabeth Wasilik; secretary—Barbara Stockton; treasurer—Betty Horsley; reporter—Merrily Brooks.

Mrs. Richard Taylor of West Cornwell, Conn, mother of Mrs. Dick Slagle, is visiting Mrs. Henry Slagle.

Rev. J. C. Swaim Returned To Macon Circuit

The congregations of the Methodist churches of the Macon circuit and many other friends are rejoicing that Rev. J. C. Swaim has been returned by the recent conference for a fourth year of service. During the past three years Mr. Swaim has endeared himself to his people and done a fine, constructive work.

Besides serving his churches well he has directed the following improvements on the circuit: Electric lights and other improvements at Patton's Chapel; improvements on the Maiden church and grounds, and Mt. Zion church.

A new church is almost completed at Asbury. Shrubbery has been planted at Union church and the belfry rebuilt at Mulberry.

A water system and bathroom have been installed in the parsonage, and many other minor additions have improved the church property. The congregations are looking forward to another profitable year under Mr. Swaim's pastorate.
