

BROUGHTON HAS BIG MAJORITY

Democrats Made Clean Sweep Of County Ticket

For the third time in as many general elections, Macon Democrats swept national, state and county tickets but by smaller margins than in the two previous elections.

Officials returns from all 12 precincts gave majorities ranging from 815 for J. M. Broughton over Robert H. McNeil for governor to 493 for C. A. Bryson over Wiley Clark for county commissioner.

Rainy and wind-swept, election day in Macon was relatively quiet. A total of 5,256 voters went to the polls over the county, slightly under totals for the past two elections. Approximately 150 absentee ballots were cast.

Democratic Landslide Over State
Returns over the entire state indicated another Democratic avalanche. With only 166 precincts out of 1,916 missing, Broughton was leading by 481,592 votes to 138,103 for McNeil. In other state races, Lieutenant-Governor R. L. Harris led Halsey B. Leavitt 479,493 to 137,107. Secretary of State Thad Eure defeated A. I. Ferree 478,933 to 137,353, and State Auditor George Ross Pou won over J. M. Van Hoy 348,727 to 101,164.

Eleven congressional districts sent Democratic nominees to Washington, including the 11th where Zebulon Weaver, candidate to succeed himself, defeated R. Frank Jarrett of Dillsboro 61,707 to 24,886.

Small Majority For Roosevelt
President Roosevelt polled a smaller county majority than in the two previous elections, leading Willkie by the margin of 624 votes as compared to 816 in 1932. Macon gave Weaver 2,964 votes to 2,240 for Jarrett.

In the race for representative, Dr. W. A. Rogers was elected to serve his sixth term in the general assembly, winning over John E. Rickman, 2,938 to 2,266. Dr. Rogers served his first term in the legislature in 1905.

Chairman Gus Leach was the only new county commissioner to be elected, defeating Walter Dean by a majority of 644 votes. C. A. Bryson and C. L. Blaine were returned to office by majorities of 493 and 545 respectively.

Macon gave E. B. Whittaker of Bryson City, candidate for state senate from the 33rd district 2,897 votes as compared to 2,225 from John B. Green. Returns from 49 of the 67 precincts in the 33rd district gave Whittaker 10,306 to Green's 7,029.

County Surveyor John H. Dalton and Town Constable Derald Ashe were unopposed for election.

ANDREWS WINS OVER FRANKLIN

Panthers To Play Sylva Return Game There Friday Afternoon

Held to a 6-6 tie until the final period, Andrews shook loose a deceptive passing attack for three consecutive touchdown marches to overwhelm Franklin high 26-6 last Tuesday afternoon. The game, originally scheduled for last Friday, was postponed to Tuesday because of bad weather.

Andrews made the initial score early in the first quarter when Parker dropped back, faked a pass, then ran 40 yards wide around end for the marker. The try for extra point failed.

A few plays later, J. C. Cunningham intercepted one of Parker's passes on the Andrews 40 and ran it back to the 25 before he was cut down. Tessier carried the ball over for the Red Panthers on a series of linebacks. Pennington's kick for extra point went wide and the half ended with the score tied at 6-6.

Parker accounted for all three of Andrews' final touchdowns, scoring two himself, and passing to Nichols for the third.

Friday, Franklin travels to Sylva for a return engagement with the Sylva Golden Hurricane. The Panthers won from Sylva 14-7 earlier in the season.

The probable starting lineup will be: Fouts, LE; J. S. Cunningham, LT; Ashe, LG; J. C. Cunningham, C; Johnson, RG; Pennington, RT; Leatherman, RE; Brooks, QB; Tessier, HB; Houk, HB; and Guest, FB.

ROOSEVELT WINS OVER WILLKIE

Democrats Gain In House Willkie Makes Plea For Unity

With the largest popular vote polled in the history of the nation the people of the United States have elected President Roosevelt to serve a record-breaking third term. According to latest but not yet complete reports, the president has 38 states and Willkie 10 states, including Michigan. In round numbers Roosevelt's popular vote was 27,000,000 and Willkie's 23,000,000.

The broad geographical sweep of the president's victory carried with it a Democratic gain of a dozen or so seats in the house. With 21 Democrats and nine Republicans elected to the Senate, this would give the Republicans a gain of two.

Willkie, after a campaign that showed him a determined, unquitting fighter, conceded his defeat and sent the president a telegram expressing his congratulations, gratification that so many had voted, wishing him "all personal, health and happiness."

To Mr. Willkie the president replied: "Please accept my sincere thanks for your message of congratulation. I greatly appreciate the assurance of your good wishes for my health and happiness which I heartily reciprocate."

"Complete Good Will"
On the radio in a brief address, Mr. Willkie accepted the result with "complete good will," and said:

"I extend my thanks to the thousands who so zealously and wholeheartedly worked for my election in various organizations and supported me personally.

"I know that they will continue, as I shall, to work for the unity of our people in the completion of our defense effort, in sending aid to Britain and in insistence upon removal of antagonisms in America—all to the end that government of free men may continue and may spread again upon the earth."

A wild ovation by a more than 300,000 people greeted President Roosevelt as he arrived in Washington Thursday morning and drove through roped streets to the White House. He thanked the cheering crowd and said that he was glad to come back for a little while because Washington was beginning to feel like home.
