Blockader Faints When Deputy Dills Arrives

During his term of office, Deputy Sheriff John Dills has arrested lawbreakers whose behavior at being confronted with the law ranged from extreme fractiousness to complete passivity, but last Friday he was up against something entirely new.

Searching for a still in the Walnut Creek vicinity, Dills came upon Charlie Stiwinter, 48, about 50 yards from the suspected site and took him into custody. A few minutes later he found the still, a 15-gallon copper outfit, and one operator, Everett Hedden, 24.

"Are you John Dills?" he asked. "Yes, and you'd better let me get these cuffs on you before you start running and I have to shoot you," Dills replied.

Hedden fainted. Dills says it was fully a half-hour before he could bring him around. Approximately 450 gallons of mash and eight gallons of backings were poured out on the site.

The men were brought to Franklin and released under $500 bond for appearance at a preliminary hearing before Magistrate George Carpenter Thursday.

Bible Reading Totals

In reporting the Bible reading activities of Mrs. J. H. Slagle's Sunday school class at the Mount Zion Methodist church in the issue of December 26, The Press unintentionally detracted from the credit due her pupils by giving the total portion of Scripture read by each pupil in verses instead of chapters.

Thus the total amount read by the class since September 15 should be 3,931 chapters; by Miss Jane Setser, 993 chapters; by Frederick Slagle, 770 chapters; etc. The entire class is to be congratulated on their fine record.

Maybe we shouldn't bring it up at this time, but wasn't Mussolini going to get tough with Gibraltar or something?
