BIBLE THOUGHT

Every man's work shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.—1 Corinthians, 3:13.

WORK

"Work for others that is soundly conceived, that is sacrificial in spirit and sustained in power is absolutely necessary for moral and social advance in the face of the terrific immoral, unmoral, anti-social forces of today. For the Christian the aim of all work is a definitely Christian world brotherhood."

The Navy Calls Young Men

THE navy's decision to use a newspaper campaign to secure men for the navy marks the need of the country to insure adequate trained personnel for the nation's growing two-ocean navy in this time of grave emergency. It also shows the newspaper reading public and the business world the value that the government sets on newspaper advertising.

The United States government recently decided to conduct a huge navy enlistment program by running a series of advertisements in weeklies and small dailies in North Carolina. The Franklin Press and Highlands Maconian has been chosen as one of the papers through which this campaign will be conducted, and the first of a series of advertisements is carried in this issue. This newspaper will strive to do its part in making the enlistment program a success. Bob Sloan of the staff, has been appointed navy editor, and is prepared to give information to any who are interested.

Western North Carolina has already given many of its best young men to the service of their country in the navy and Naval Reserve. There is much good material in this area that can qualify to the exacting requirements of the Navy's service. No better opening is offered to ambitious young men to receive an education through training and travel with liberal pay, nor is there any better opportunity to give service to their country in time of need.

Macon Women Win

MACON'S women have carried off a number of prizes at the Western North Carolina Fair this week. Their Home Demonstration Club booth was judged the best in that division, and the 4-H Club girls again distinguished themselves by winning prizes and blue ribbons.

Macon men will, we are sure, echo the comment of one enthusiastic boy when he heard the news, "Macon County is 'going to town' at the fair!" Thousands have visited the fair and the homefolks are proud of the exhibitors and leaders whose good work has brought this distinction to the county. The theme emphasized in all activities this year is Production For Defense; For Home and Market. Attractive presentation was made through posters and exhibits.

It is one thing to announce a program; another to carry it out. Early in the year both farm and home demonstration organizations held important meetings where leaders of the various government-sponsored and other agencies presented the necessity for increased food production in a world at war. It was the thorough and patriotic response to this program by the women and girls of these clubs that has resulted in their excellent record.

Traffic Fatalities

MACON COUNTY has been adding to its list of traffic accidents and fatalities during the past few weeks. This week two accidents are reported resulting in at least one man killed. That all three men in this car are alleged to have been drinking, is another instance that goes to show that alcohol and gasoline is a deadly combination.

The Highway Safety Division reported this week that Macon county had five traffic fatalities charged to its 1941 record at the close of the eighth month of the year.

The 742 persons killed in traffic accidents on North Carolina streets and highways the first eight months of this year represented a 45 per cent increase over the 509 persons reported killed in the same period last year.

"Although traffic fatalities all over the country have increased this year as a result of increased motor vehicle registrations, soaring gasoline sales, the stepped-up tempo of life in general, and various other factors, North Carolina's record stands as a shameful commentary on the thoughtlessness, recklessness, carelessness and inattention of our drivers," declared Ronald Hocutt, director of the safety division.
