After dinner work began—a quilt of the "blown tulip" pattern in which the Christmas colors of red and green predominated, was put into the frames. The virgin wool that had been washed, hand-picked and used for the padding. The lining and the thread it was quilted with were green. Mocha Halo Cakes Fit Food For Angels

No need now to wait 'til heaven to get your "just desserts", for here are Mocha Halo Cakes, divine food for we mortals. Light as an angel's wing because of the Rumford Baking Powder in the batter, you'll rate your own personal halo after you try this recipe:

Mocha Halo Cakes 1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup buttermilk 1 cup sugar 1 1/2 cups sifted cake flour 2 egg yolks 1/2 cup cocoa 1/2 cup double strength freshly made coffee 2 teaspoons Rumford Baking Powder 1/2 teaspoon salt light and fluffy. Combine whole egg and egg yolks; beat well; add to the creamed mixture. Reserve the two egg whites for the frosting. Cool coffee and combine with buttermilk. Sift remaining dry ingredients and add alternately with liquid to creamed mixture, mixing well after each addition. Bake in oiled muffin pans in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 20 minutes. Makes 18 medium or 12 large cup cakes. Frost with your favorite white frosting. When frosting has "set" put a band of chocolate around the edge of the cake by melting 1 square bitter chocolate with 1 teaspoon butter.

ANIMAL-DRAWN VEHICLES

Sec. 132 1/2, Motor Vehicle Laws of North Carolina: "Every person riding an animal or driving any animal drawing a vehicle drawn upon a highway shall be subject to the provisions of this Act which by their nature can have no application."

In other words, a man riding a mule or driving a horse-drawn vehicle on any highway must obey the same general traffic regulations and rules of the road that drivers of motor vehicles are required to obey. The only exceptions being the laws which could not apply to animals or animal-drawn vehicles, such as the 60-mile maximum speed law or the law forbidding coasting down grade with the gears in neutral.

grass crop might be substituted for the legume. The committee went on to declare that every section of the State had legumes best adapted to its soil and its system of farming. Legumes should be fertilized, especially with limestone, phosphate and potash, to increase their effectiveness. More legume seed needs to be grown on our home farms.

The control of erosion is also necessary to good soil fertility and therefore broadcast or sod crops should occupy from 25 to 100 percent of the cropland on every farm. The actual percentage per farm will depend upon the slope and the kind of farming done. Terraces, subsoiling, contour cultivation, and drainage are necessary in many cases.

Minor elements need to be carefully considered in all soil fertility and nutrition problems and county agents were urged, in the report, to study these elements and to become better prepared to aid farmers concerning these little known materials. More research with minor elements was recommended.
