Shoes Important Item, Now That Tires Scarce

Ordinary citizens are going to have to depend more and more on shoe leather, now that tires are being rationed. Miss Julia McIver, assistant Extension clothing specialist of N. C. State College, says this calls for better protection of shoes.

"Polishing shoes regularly isn't just a cranky notion. Polishing feeds the leather, makes it pliable, and protects it."

The life of literally thousands of pairs of shoes is shortened by failure to dry them properly. Water-proofing shoes helps protect them, but doesn't take the place of rubber overshoes or rubber boots for walking in water, soft mud or slushy snow. Shoes which become wet should be dried slowly, not too close to an open fire, and never in a hot place like the top of a radiator or in the oven. Polish when dry.

Workers are warned not to quit their present jobs until they have passed the necessary physical examination at the Raleigh station and have notice that they are ready to be transferred to a naval training station for preliminary induction. Letters of reference should be brought in by applicants from previous employers stating the kind of work they have been doing.

World Day Of Prayer Observed In Franklin

The Franklin Presbyterian church was filled last Friday afternoon when the observance of the World Day of Prayer was carried out under the direction of the members of the missionary societies of the Franklin churches. A large number of young people of the Franklin high school attended.

The same program and order of services was used throughout the world, as groups on every continent united every hour of the day in prayer and in meditation on the theme, "I am the Way."

The four pastors, the Revs. Hubert Wardlaw, J. L. Stokes, C. F. Rogers and A. R. Morgan, read sketches of the work sustained by the World Day of Prayer offerings which include community centers among migratory workers, Christian literature and Colleges and help to Indian students in government schools.

Mrs. Ben McGlamery led the service and Miss Elizabeth McGuire conducted the music. The following women represented their various religious groups by taking part in the program: Mrs. C. F. Rogers, Mrs. Hubert Wardlaw, Mrs. J. L. Stokes, Mrs. T. T. Hall, Mrs. Gus Leach, Mrs. Thad Bryson, Mrs. Brabson Bulgin, Mrs. Fred Slagle, Mrs. Pearl Hunter, Mrs. Jack Sanders, Miss Jewel Vandiver, Mrs. J. W. C. Johnson.
