

Macon H. D. Women Quoted In Thrift Article

In a recent article urging thrift in home management, Pauline Gordon of the State College extension department, urges farm women to save seeds, make soap, take care of screens and keep records. She quotes two members of the Macon County Home Demonstration clubs in the article, from which we make the following excerpts:

Homemade Soap

Mrs. Fred Painter of Cullasaja home demonstration club of Macon county reported at a recent club meeting that she had made enough soap for a year's supply at the cost of 40 cents.

Soap is one of the household necessities that should now be used economically. The thrifty homemaker will find that it pays to unwrap soap so that it will dry out. Drying removes water and the soap hardens and lasts longer. Small ends of soap should be saved until there are enough to make it worthwhile to grind it into a soap powder. A soap jelly can be made also.

The amount of soap used by an average rural family is estimated to be about twelve dollars worth a year. In farm homes where there is a surplus of rancid fat, fat scraps, or tallow, a good homemade soap may be made economically. Homemade soap is excellent for laundering.

NYA Training Centers Open To Macon Youth

Miss Inez Calhoun, NYA interviewer, is scheduled to be at the Agricultural building each Tuesday afternoon to meet any young people interested in obtaining training for war industries at NYA centers.

The Asheville Resident Training center offers opportunity to both white and colored young people to receive vocational training of various kinds to prepare them for defense jobs, according to Leo H. Manley, project manager. This project serves 17 counties in the western area. It includes training in machine shop, ship carpentry, sheet metal, mechanical, electrical, radio and welding trades where 250 boys are now enrolled.

Earl L. Slagle of Stiles completed his training in auto mechanics in August and is now employed in the U. S. Army Air Corps.

According to figures released by the War department, there is one chaplain for every 1,200 men now in service; and more than 600 chapels have been constructed at permanent posts, army cantonments, etc. The cost of the chapels is more than $13,000,000.

Farm People And Taxes

The revenue acts of 1941 lowered personal exemptions, thus increasing the number of rural families subject to income tax. Taxes are necessary for financing the war. Farm families keeping a record of their income and expenditures will find it a great help in making their tax returns. Incomes may be more easily calculated than expenditures.

Mrs. Jim Gray of Hickory Knoll, Macon county, recommends record keeping, because according to Mrs. Gray, "I don't have to wonder where our income has gone. Every Saturday night is the time we set aside for record keeping. If we have company, I never fail to go ahead with my books after they leave. I used to ask myself 'What did I do with that $2 I had?' Now I know what I did with it as well as the rest of our income."

Sheriffs Endorse Clean-up Campaign

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 26 — North Carolina sheriffs have given their official endorsement to the beer industry's "clean-up or close-up" campaign in this state.

The North Carolina Sheriffs' association, at its annual convention in Raleigh, adopted a resolution commending the three-year-old campaign against objectionable beer outlets and pledging continued cooperation to State Director Edgar H. Bain and the North Carolina committee of the Brewing Industry Foundation.

Officials pointed out that the committee had cooperated with law enforcement officers in the elimination of more than 200 undesirable outlets in this state.

The State association of county commissioners, at its convention in Asheville recently, adopted a resolution commending the self-regulation campaign.

WILEY CLARKE MAKES PROFIT ON WHEAT CROP

Wiley Clark of Cullasaja proves that it does pay to grow wheat even though all the work is done by hired labor, according to a report made by Sam Mendenhall, farm agent. He seeded two acres of wheat which made 44 bushels of wheat at a cost of 54 cents per bushel. Preparing land $4.50, three bushels of seed wheat $4.50, 300 pounds of 4-8-4 fertilizer, $4.50, harvesting $6.00 and stacking and threshing $4.75. Mr. Clark said that at least 5 bushels were lost by bedding down.

You better live your best and act your best and think your best today; for today is the sure preparation for tomorrow and all the other tomorrows that follow.
