MR. & MRS. T. C. CHILDRESS HAVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Childress of Oak Grove community celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary September 6. They were honored at a dinner given by their children at their home. A number of friends and neighbors helped to make this a joyful occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Childress have lived in Macon county all their lives and are well known and liked. They have 17 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. Childress is crippled and is unable to visit his many friends, and all who care to visit him will be welcomed at all times.

MISS RUTH CABE BRIDE OF JOS. L. KEENER

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Cabe of Otto have announced the marriage of their daughter, Ruth, to Joseph L. Keener of Otto and Durham. The marriage was performed at Clayton, Ga., on Sunday, August 23, with Judge R. C. Ramey officiating.

Mrs. Keener, who is a graduate of Franklin High school and Franklin Commercial school, was attired in navy blue, with navy accessories.

Mr. Keener, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Keener, of Otto, has been employed by the Triangle Construction company at Durham for several months.

The couple are residing with the groom's parents at present, but Mr. Keener will return to Durham soon. Mrs. Keener plans to join him there at an early date.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED OF ENSIGN G. A. JONES TO MISS McCARTNEY OF FLA.

The many friends of Ensign Gilmer Andrew Jones, Jr. will be interested in the announcement which was made recently in the Jacksonville, Fla. newspaper by Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Francis McCartney, of his marriage to their daughter, Betty Eloise.

The marriage took place on Sunday, August 2, at the Woodland Avenue Presbyterian church in Philadelphia, the former home of the family, and the church attended by the bride in her childhood. Mrs. Jones visited the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer A. Jones, here in the Spring when Ensign Jones came home on furlough. He is now serving on Inshore patrol duty at Antigua, British West Indies.

At the time of his marriage, Ensign Jones was on sea duty on the newly-commissioned ship, U. S. "South Dakota," having received this assignment after receiving his commission at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., in April, where he was an instructor until transferred to New York. Early in August he was transferred to the U. S. Naval Station at San Juan, Puerto Rico, and from there to his present location.

Mrs. Jones is at present with her parents in Jacksonville.

STILES REUNION WITH MR. AND MRS. R. N. STILES

The annual Stiles family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Stiles, where approximately 300 friends and relatives were present.

Interesting talks were made by the following: Burton Stiles of Sylva, J. L. Young of Franklin and Rev. Barrett of Rabun Gap, Ga. A special prayer was given for all our men in the fighting forces. Many songs were sung, with Mrs. Harry Higgins as organist.

A bountiful and appetizing dinner was served and enjoyed by everyone.

Duke of Kent Lauds N. C. State Alumnus

This British Air Ministry photo shows the Duke of Kent, who was recently killed in a plane crash on his way to Iceland on military duty with RAF Flight Commander Thomas W. Allen of Louisville, at a plane base somewhere in England. The Duke made the visit to congratulate Allen and his squadron on sinking a German ship May 20. Allen, the son of Leslie L. Allen, later was invited to lunch with the King and Queen. He was reported missing recently after action above the English channel. Like his father, young Allen is an alumnus of North Carolina State college.

State College Questions and Answers

Q. What is a good balanced ration for a dairy cow?

A. For a cow weighing around 1,000 pounds and giving between 4 and 5 gallons of milk daily during the winter, a good, balanced ration would be as follows: 12 pounds of soybean or any good legume hay; 40 pounds of corn silage or silage made from small grains; 9 pounds of corn and cob meal; 4 pounds of wheat bran; and two pounds of cotton seed meal. It should be observed that practically all of this ration can be grown on the average North Carolina farm.

Q. How should the sow be handled before farrowing?

A. A few days before she far-rows the sow should be scrubbed thoroughly with a brush using soap and warm water to remove dirt and worm eggs. Then put the animal in a clean farrowing pen. To control lice and mange, oil should be applied after she has dried off. A clean, portable farrowing house should be provided. This is to be located on a clean, cultivated field containing a suitable forage crop on which there have been no hogs since the field was cultivated. Complete instructions on swine-raising are contained in Extension Circular No. 238. This may be obtained free from the Agricultural Editor, State College, Raleigh.

The Homecoming day at the Tellico church September 6 was a success. Rain early in the morning hindered a number of people from attending. J. Horner Stockton made an address which was enjoyed by all present. The Moore quartet of Asheville entertained the congregation by singing hymns. Among the former residents of this community attending were W. J. Morgan of Brevard and Mr. Freeman of Asheville, who made addresses.

Mrs. Sallie Byrd Bridges of California and daughter are visiting friends and relatives. This is her first visit home in 32 years.

Mrs. Lillie Morgan Duvall of Blairsville, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Cochran of Flats, Lee Cook of Bessemer City, Moena McGaha of Lowell, John Justice of Franklin and many others who were not reported. Rev. C. C. Welch, pastor, announced that on the 17th Sunday of September, 1943, there would be another homecoming day at this church.

The Rev. Forrest Blankenship held a series of meetings at the Tellico church last week. The baptizing was held Sunday, September 13, at 10 a.m., by the pastor, Rev. C. C. Welch.

T. Banderson, who has been at Lowell for the past four years, is visiting friends and relatives.

Rev. T. A. Slagle has received word that his son, who is in the armed forces, has been injured and is in a hospital in South Carolina.

Creed DeHart of Asheville spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. C. DeHart, of Tellico.

Mrs. John Gasaway of Wesser spent last Sunday in this section.

P.T.A. OFFICERS RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS

A meeting for the instruction of officers and committees of the Franklin Parent-Teacher association was held last Thursday afternoon in the Franklin Methodist church.

The instructors were Mrs. E. N. Howell of Swannanoa, district field representative, and Mrs. R. U. Sutton of Sylva, district director.

The theme for the year is "The Community—The Workshop of Democracy."

The purpose and aims of the P.T.A. were explained by Mrs. Howell. Health and nutrition in the school is an important item; also a survey of the needs of our school and what can be done about them, said the speaker.

The school board amendment, which is to come before the people to be voted on in the November election, was explained. Instead of the five existing boards, the object of the amendment is to unite their work under one board.

A number of officers and committee members were present.

"Back-To-School"

The little miss pictured above will surely receive "A" in appearance when she arrives at school on opening day dressed in this dark plaid cotton gingham. The pattern capitalizes on every inch of its WPB fabric allowance to achieve the utmost in style. Pegtop pockets in the skirt and a smart bolero effect, set off by a white pique collar, are the sort of details to endear this frock to a junior miss.

Last Rites Conducted For Jenkins Infant

Funeral services for Doris Mildred Jenkins, month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Jenkins, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Asbury Methodist church at Otto. Rev. J. C. Swain, pastor, officiated and burial was in the church cemetery.

The infant died at home in Smith Bridge township Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock following an illness of two weeks.

Surviving are the parents, Hoyt and Marie Messer Jenkins.
