SLICE BREAD OUT—After Jan. 18th, North Carolina housewives will have to slice their own bread. A Food Distribution Order last week prohibits bakeries from selling sliced bread after January 18—so housewives had better start sharpening bread knives.

BABY CARRIAGES—Uncle Sam is taking care of North Carolina's baby population. Although baby carriage manufacturers have been restricted their own production to single-sleeper vehicles, using six pounds of steel per unit, many appeals for larger buggies—to take care of twins and triplets—have been granted since the restriction order went into effect last June. Since they can't put over six pounds of steel in a carriage and orders for the "twin and triplet" models keep coming, it's possible that North Carolina twins and triplets will soon be "Victory Model" models.

TIRE INSPECTION—North Carolina's commercial motor vehicles must be inspected before they can operate without an approved tire inspector's record on the vehicle's Certificate of War Necessity. Better hurry.

NO RADIO ALARMS—Don't depend upon radio for air raid alarms. Henceforth radio stations will NOT broadcast practice alarms. The reason: In case of an actual raid they'd be off the air and people who had been depending on getting air raid notices as a way might be caught unawares.

Ralph S. Morgan Passes, Funeral Services At St. Agnes Church

Ralph Siler Morgan, 55, died Monday morning at a Durham hospital, immediately following an operation. Funeral services were held in St. Agnes Episcopal church at 3 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, with his brother, the Rev. Rufus Morgan, rector, officiating. Owing to the delay in the arrival of his daughter, Miss Marie Morgan, who teaches in Michigan, interment was postponed until 11 o'clock Thursday morning in the old St. John's churchyard on Cortgeoged thaye.

Members of the Methodist choir assisted with the music at the church and Rev. and Mrs. P. L. Green sang "O Love That Will Not Let Me Go."

Pallbearers were Dr. J. E. Perry, Lewis Patton, Paul Dean, Carl Slagle, Hayne Arthur and Herry Higgins. Ushers were Allan Brooks and R. S. O'Mohundro.

Mr. Morgan came to Franklin last May when he accepted the position of pharmacist at Perry's Drug Store. He endeared himself to many during his brief service here. It was his nature to make friends wherever he went. He had lived at Spruce Pine, Brevard and Arden prior to coming to Franklin, which was his home during his early childhood. For four years he was in charge of the boys at Penland school near Spruce Pine, a mission school which was founded by Rev. Rufus Morgan and where their sister, Miss Lucy Morgan, directs the famous weaving and pewter handicrafts. Mr. Morgan was an artist in pewter handicraft, having created many beautiful designs.

Mr. Morgan was born at Whit-tier, April 4, 1887, where his parents, Alfred Morgan and Mary Siler Morgan of Macon county, were living at that time. They returned to Franklin to make

This landowner is not only harvesting his timber selectively but is selling poles, sawlogs, and pulpwood instead of any single product. It is a waste of money to sell good pole stock for sawlogs, or good sawlog stock for pulpwood.

Federal Income Tax Now Affects Many Citizens

More Than 35 Million Will File Returns In 1943

The federal income tax is, as the name implies, a tax levied upon incomes, and it is payable in relation to the amount of income. Income, for Federal income tax purposes, means in general any compensation for one's services; it includes also the net value received for the product of one's labor, as farm produce in the case of a farmer, income from investments, profit from business operations, and other gains from sales and exchanges of goods and property. Certain limited categories of income are, however, tax exempt, and to the extent such exemption are ex-

of persons now subject to the Federal income tax, who have never reported income before for Federal tax purposes, an understanding of the law and applicable regulations is of prime importance.

An income tax return is a declaration on the part of the tax payer of his total taxable income for the year, together with the various deductions, exemptions, and credits to which he is entitled. It is in reliance upon voluntary disclosures, and the integrity of taxpayers generally, that the cost of administration of the income tax can be kept at a minimum. Though the return is a voluntary statement, any person who willfully makes a return which he does not believe to be true and
