

National War Fund Works With All Relief Agencies

John M. Archer Is The Chairman For Macon County

The National War Fund is working in closest cooperation with the Red Cross and other war relief agencies, according to Robert M. Hanes, State Chairman of the United War Fund of North Carolina. John M. Archer is Macon County Chairman.

Hanes pointed out that, "Periodic meetings are held with an advisory group in Washington which represent Lend-Lease, State Department, American Red Cross, Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation, and President's War Relief Control Board. It is necessary for the success of the National War Fund that these agencies work cooperatively."

"The National War Fund instead of setting up duplicating machinery, uses existing facilities for relief distribution to the fullest possible extent. In this respect, the American Red Cross, the International Red Cross and its affiliated organizations in neutral as well as belligerent countries have proved to be most helpful. Much of the United Nations' relief provided through National War Fund channels will be distributed through the experienced staff of the International Red Cross and its member groups."

"Food and invalid packages for prisoners of war provided from gifts to member agencies of the National War Fund are purchased, shipped and distributed through the American Red Cross."

"Moreover, the itemized budget of National War Fund agencies are reviewed in consultation with representatives of the various governmental agencies concerned with foreign relief operations and with the American Red Cross to insure, in so far as practicable, that there is no undesirable duplication in the allocation of funds or in the carrying out of the relief projects proposed."

In support of the National War Fund, President Roosevelt said, "As Commander in Chief, I ask all our people to remember this—that a share in the National War Fund is a share in winning the war."

Xmas. Packages

To Be Mailed Sept. 15—
Oct. 15—"Christmas
Mailing Month"

The Army Postal Service not only believes in doing that Christmas shopping and mailing early, but is pointing the way by announcing that September 15 will be "Christmas Mailing Month" for gifts to soldiers overseas, according to Lt. Colonel Hartley B. Dean, Chief of Postal Section, Headquarters 4th Service Command.

These Christmas packages must conform to present limitations as to weight and size which are not over 5 pounds in weight, 15 inches in length and 36 inches in length and girth combined. Packages mailed during this period must be packed tightly in metal, wooden or strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard boxes and should be marked "Christmas Gift Parcel."

Only one package will be accepted for mailing by or on behalf of the same person or concern to or for the same addressee during any one week. This is important, Colonel Dean emphasized and checking by postal officials will be in effect.

For Christmas packages mailing, restrictions are relaxed to make it unnecessary for the mailer to present either a request or an envelope bearing an APO cancellation at the time of mailing. Perishable articles cannot be mailed. The sending of parcels under the classification of "fragile" is discouraged, Colonel Dean stated. Intoxicants, inflammable materials, or any article which might kill or injure another or damage the mails cannot be accepted.

Addresses must be legible. Parcels addressed properly should show, in addition to the name and address of the sender, the name, rank, Army serial number, branch of service, organization, APO number of the addressee and the post-office through which the parcels are to be routed.

I hope Americans will figure out for themselves additional payroll savings.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Powder Monkey

On board ship and in the artillery their buddies call them "powder monkeys." Not disrespectful, just a personal, intimate term between friends. Civilians call them gun crews. During a battle the crews of "powder monkeys" must work like trojans bringing the ammunition to the guns.

The gun may fire an anti aircraft .50 calibre shell or a broadside from the 16 inch guns of a great battleship, but in either event the "powder monkey" must pass millions of dollars' worth of ammunition to make the gun effective, and your savings in War Bonds are necessary to supply the financial ammunition that provides the shells.

WANT ADS GET RESULTS!

From where I sit ...

by Joe Marsh

One of the best-liked farmers in these parts is Bert Childers! And he has the best way of beating the man shortage, too.

Come husking time, Bert invites all of his farmer neighbors over to have a glass of beer. When they ask politely "Where's the beer?" Bert points to a bucket-full of frosty bottles in the middle of the field.

"All you got to do," he says, "is work your way out to it."

Well, Bert's idea has caught on all over the countryside.

Folks are pitching in to help their neighbors harvest grain, and fruit, and vegetables—and are taking their reward in sociability when the job's done.

And from where I sit, that's a mighty healthy picture of American life—people working together to get in the food this country needs—and afterwards, sittin' around like good friends, over a moderate glass of whole-some beer. I'm for it!

MY BEST FRIEND'S HELPING HITLER!

It shocked me to find out! He's always been ★ a right guy. Fought in the last war—raised two kids, Has a nice home . . . owns a good car, Makes good money, 'specially now.

Today ★ he told me he was saving every cent he could get his hands on.

"In war bonds?" I asked. He said, "I've got some bonds, but not too much ★ I'm saving cash."

"Why?" I asked. "Why not bonds? Why cash?"

"Oh, seems good to have the cash," he said ★ "I have some bonds. May need the money. We're buying things from time to time we've always wanted."

"Good Lord, Bill," I said, "Don't you know you're helping Hitler?"

He huffed right up. "I certainly am not!"

"Only a Hitler helper lets dollars loaf," I said. "You've got some ★ bonds. Thousands of fighting men have fought some battles, too. But they don't quit. They're fighting for the duration. Your loans are needed the same way. ★ Buying bonds is a continuous job."

I walked away, plain mad. I don't know whether Bill woke up or not. But if he doesn't stake his saved-up cash on bonds today ★ he's helping Hitler all right. Idle dollars are blood money, loafing while soldiers fight and die. I've got mine in bonds and more go in ★ each time I get a few together. I'd be willing for any fighting man to know my record in this war!"

AND YOU?

When you lie alone in the dark at night and whisper a prayer for boys somewhere across the world, or getting ready to go, do you feel contented deep down inside yourself? It isn't fair to ask God to take over unless you're doing all you can . . . backing the attack with all you can lend. Squeeze out cash for another bond or two, won't you? Today!
