After the games and contest and the guests marched into the dining room singing "Happy Birthday to You." Refreshments were ice cream and cake.

MISS LEDBETTER IS AIRPORT SERVICE PILOT

Miss Julie Ledbetter leaves this week for Romulus Field, Mich., to begin her new duties as a member of the Women's Airport Service Pilots. Her work consists in ferrying planes from factories to army air bases in this country and in Canada, each flyer being accompanied by another young lady copilot on these trips. At present the WASPS number only 200 and are stationed at the four U. S. field centers.

Miss Ledbetter took her training at Avenger Field, Sweetwater, Texas, where she received her wings in graduation exercises last month. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ledbetter of Anderson, S. C., and with her parents has been visiting an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Russell, at their summer home on Mirror Lake.

As a Service Pilot, Miss Ledbetter is realizing her childhood ambition to fly. She took her first airplane ride at the age of five and at ten built a plane large enough to seat two people, which she admits wasn't much of a flying success. She is twenty-one years old and is a graduate of the University of South Carolina.

PRIVATE AD... TO RETAIL STORE EMPLOYEES

Millions of people ★ all over the U. S. Have bought bonds from YOU. In the little village store and in the great city department store

YOU retail people have sold gloriously. This ad ★ is the best means we—your employers—can use to collectively congratulate you ★ and say "Thank you."

Some of you have rolled up records that are quite remarkable—and the U. S. Treasury is appreciative of the great collective power of you retail store employees ★ to do a mass selling job.

Meanwhile—the war is not won. Men are still fighting and dying over there. Munitions are still to be made and shipped. Guns and planes that must help win ★ are still to be born.

The Drive is not yet over. While we congratulate you for your record so far ★ we would remind you that a strong finish can be your greatest glory. If in the last few days of this Drive beginning NOW—TODAY—every retail store employee could sell just one more bond—we would turn in to the terrific surge of needed things ★ $200,000,000 MORE of munitions and planes and supplies.

Will you resolve to yourself that ★ whatever effort it takes to sell another war bond before October 1 ★ you will exert it?

More glory and power to you ★ for what you've achieved and YET WILL ACHIEVE.

Be Sympathetic

IF YOU, Mr. or Madam Citizen, have happened to read this little message we have addressed to our associates in retailing—will you be sympathetic and friendly if some of those associates call on you and seek your purchase of another BOND? Our respects to you if you have already bought all you can — but bank deposits, savings bank deposits, postal savings deposits are still very high. And it is only by vigorously offering bonds that idle money can be located and bond buying be kept on a voluntary basis.

It's EASY to Buy BONDS

The War is Not Won

Loaning money to win the war is easy. You pay $18.75 for a bond you can cash in for $25 in ten years. A $50 bond is $37.50, a $100 bond is $75. The bigger the bond the less it costs the government and you in book-keeping. If you need your money in less than 10 years, you can get it any time—with earned interest. Buy a big bond today!

Our armed forces have a continuous fighting job. And so it is with buying bonds. Buying bonds is a continuing responsibility for everyone who can scrape the price of a bond together at any time. You should buy bonds every month, or every week, if you can. Money you lend for bonds goes into the war at once, keeps out of consumer markets, and therefore helps inflation. Bond money is double duty money—fighting the war on foreign fronts and inflation on the home front. Keep buying bonds.
