Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Beale, who have been spending the winter in Eustis, Fla., returned to their home on the Walhalla Road last week.

Sending Packages To Those Overseas

"Why do soldiers overseas frequently experience difficulty in the receipt of their mail when they are hospitalized?" is a question frequently asked of Army Postal Service.

Lt. Col Hartley B. Dean, Headquarters, Fourth Service Command Postal Officer answers this question by explaining, "Wounded and sick soldiers are moved to the rear through a series of hospitals in order that proper treatment and quarters may be provided. This means that any mail addressed to the outfit with which the soldier was serving before becoming a casualty, must have the address changed and be forwarded, perhaps several times, before it catches up with the addressee. Until such time as one address can be established so that it may be furnished to correspondents at home, there will be delay in delivery of the mail."

"Army Postal Service is constantly trying to provide the best possible mail service for our troops overseas, and there is a system now being placed in effect whereby the emergency addressee of a soldier seriously ill or wounded is immediately notified by a member of the hospital staff of this new address. This will abolish some of the delay experienced by battle casualties in obtaining mail."

"Another question which comes up often," continued Col. Dean, "is 'Why do parcels require so much more time than letters for delivery overseas?' The reason for this is that because of limited cargo space on planes, packages have to be shipped on surface vessels. These ships are en route to their destinations from two weeks to as long as three months, depending upon the number of ocean miles they must travel."

Plant Soybeans For Cheaper Hog Feed

An acre of soybeans, planted in early April, will furnish grazing for a litter of spring pigs from late June until fall. This acre will produce three times as much feed as the same acre planted to corn alone. Fertilize the acer of soybeans and the amount of feed produced will be still further increased and help to produce pork at a cheaper cost per pound.

Livestock specialists at State College insist that grazing crops for hogs furnish the cheapest feed obtainable and that hogs in Eastern Carolina can be grazed for about 10 to 11 months in the year. If lespedeza is seeded in small grains at this time, it will give ex-

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Houston had as their recent weekend guests Mr. and Mrs. Fred Calhoun and children Betty and Freddie of Wilmington and Hazelwood. Mrs. Clyde Calhoun and small daughter were also guests of Mr. and Mrs. Houston. While in this section the family enjoyed a short visit with Mrs. Calhoun's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Roper, of Harrison avenue, Franklin.

Miss Fannie George Lucas has returned to her home here after spending sometime in Jacksonville, Fla., with her sister, Mrs. Hubert Marshall and family.

Mrs. F. A. Edwards was called to Newark, N. J., last week because of the serious illness of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edison Picklesimer, who is reported to be improving. Mrs. Edwards expects to go on to Dedham, Mass., for a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Jack W. Brockway and family, before returning to Highlands.

Mrs. Harry Holt is a patient at the North Carolina Baptist Hospital in Winston-Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bolton of Commerce, Ga., were weekend guests of Mrs. Bolton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Davis.

McNamee of Cincinnati, Ohio, and her niece, Mrs. J. D. Quisenberry of Richmond, Va., who went on to Asheville Tuesday en route home.

Farm Accidents Take Heavy Toll

A tree falls on a farmer during logging operations in the woods; a can of kerosene explodes as a person attempts to build a fire in the kitchen stove; a child playing with matches sets her clothes on fire and is burned to death, severely injuring an older brother who attempts to help her; a woman trips on a broken step and falls to her death; revolving parts of a tractor catch the clothes of the operator, severely injuring him; an electric circuit with a too heavy load causes a "short" and exceptionally good grazing for late summer.

In the western half of the state, the beans can be cut and carried to the hogs, if grazing is not preferred.

The soybeans should be planted in rows about two feet apart and then cultivated twice to keep down grass and weeds. They are ready for grazing when about 12 to 15 inches high. Fertilization gives earlier grazing and more grazing per acre.

"Tests show that good pigs, weighing from 50 to 100 pounds, will gain better than a pound a day on green soybeans when fed only one of two large ears of corn a day along with a simple mineral mixture," the specialists say.

A mineral mixture can be made of 1 gallon of ground limestone, 1 gallon of hardwood ashes, and 1 quart of salt; or 10 pounds of ground limestone, 10 pounds of steamed bone meal, and 5 pounds of salt.
