CPL. JOHN H. KEENER, JR.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Keener of Franklin Route 4, have had a letter from the Adjutant General's office, stating that fol-lowing a year of uncertainty surrounding the absence of their son, Cpl. John H. Keener, Jr., was reported to be missing in action on August 17, 1944, he had been presumably pro-nounced dead by the war department.

"Accordingly an official finding of death has been recorded, the finding does not estab-lish an actual or probable date of death, however, as requested by law, it includes a presump-tive date of death for the termination of pay and allowance. We regret the necessity of this message but trust that the ending of a long period of uncertainty may give at least some small measure of consolation. I hope you may find sustaining comfort in the thought that the uncertainty with which war has surrounded the absence of your son, has enhanced the honor of his service to his country and of his sacrifice."

Cpl. Keener entered the arm-ed forces on November 24, 1943 and took his training at a base in Miami, Fla., and at Tendille Field, Fla. He was later transferred to Charleston, & was home on a short furlough around July 3, 1943 before he immediately left for overseas service. He was in Newfound-land, North Africa and Italy.

BENEFITS OF VETS BASED ON SERVICES

$2.00 PER YEAR

Returning Servicemen Are Entitled To Job Left When Inducted

Mrs. Mary L. Walker, of the local United States employment office, states that most of the benefits to which a veteran is entitled are based on the condition that he has served satisfactorily in the armed forces for at least 90 days, or has served less than 90 days and has been discharged for disability due to service and was in service after September 16, 1940. And, now, let us look at the veterans rights to a suitable and satisfactory job. If a war veteran wants to return to the job held on a permanent basis immediately be-fore entering the armed forces with a private employer or with the Federal Government, he is entitled to get that job back or one substantially equivalent to it in every respect if he meets

(a) If he completed his military service satisfactorily.

these conditions:

(b) If he is qualified to handle the duties of the position. (c) If he applies for reem-ployment within 90 days after his discharge; and

(d) If the employer's circum-stances have not changed so as to make reemployment impossible or unreasonable.

A veteran who meets these conditions has the right of reemployment and cannot be dismissed without cause for a period of a year. Any difficulty under this provision should be reported to the Selective Service Local Board.

New Jobs

If a veteran wants a new job or has not previously held a job, he should visit the U.S. Employment Service office which serves his area, or meet the representative of that office on his regularly scheduled visits to the nearest point. The USES offices have information on types and locations of all jobs available for veterans and can counsel and advise veaerans on the most suitable and satisfactory job.

If a veteran was a Federal Civil Service employee when he entered the armed forces, he is entitled to his old job or to one of like seniority, status, and pay". Such veterans are advised to apply to the agency where last employed within 90 days of their discharge. If any difficulty is experienced in beto their S Service Local Board.

To Veterans wishing to obtain Civil Service jobs after dis-charge, should apply to the U. S. Civil Service Co Washington 25, D. C. Commission.

Educational Benefits

Educational benefits are available if a veteran: (a) was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable; (b) if he served 90 days or more (not counting the time in Army Specialized Training Program or Navy College Training Program, which course was a continuation of a civilian course and which was pursued to completion, or as a Cadet or Midshipman in a service academy) or was discharged or released from service because of an actual service-incurred injury or disability; and (c) if he starts such education not later than two years after discharge or the end of the war, whichever date is later.

If these conditions are met, the veteran is entitled to one year of school or college training or its equivalent. In addition, if the veteran was not over 25 years of age when he entered the service, or if over 25 and can show that his education or training was inter-rupted or interfered with by his entrance into the service, and if he completes these courses satisfactorily, he will be entitled to additional education or training not to exceed the lenght of time he spent in active service after September 16, the army's point system.

Among those who left was Pfc. Grady C. Cabe, Route 2, education or training may not exceed three years.
