Lions Club

Met In Regular Session October 6th

The Franklin Lions Club held its first regular meeting of the month at Cagle's Cafe the evening of October 8, with President Willard Pendergrass presiding. District Governor ward H. McMahan of Brevard, paid the Club his official visit of the year.

McMahan, in his address, declared that civic organizations, such as Lions and Rotary, can and must take an active part in the winning of the peace, through industriously improving the well being of their respective communities. He expressed himself as gratified by the numerous civic projects now be-ing carried on by the Franklin Lions. As one example, he stated that the Service Board, erect-ed and donated to the county by the local Club, was the most fitting and complete that he had ever seen. He urged that this spirit of service continue to be the motivating influence of the Club.

Ben McGlamery, in a short talk, welcomed Alf Higdon as a new member of the Club. Higdon, in return, expressed pleasure over his affiliation.

Frank Duncan reported that good progress was being made in financing the lighting of the Franklin Athletic Field and construction of bathhousedressing room, sponsored by the Lions. He pointed out that the lighting project had been carried through with surprising speed. Concisely, nine days after the initial meeting to discuss the feasibility of lighting of the field Franklin and Hayesville high schools played under the Roy Mashburn, in charge of arrangements, reported on the County-wide box supper to be held at the high school the evening of October 12 under the sponsorship of the Lions. Mashburn appointed final sub-committees and expressed confidence that the evening would be enjoyable and financially successful. He stated that this was a most worthy project, in view of the fact that all monies so received would be donated to the high school athletic fund.

President Pendergrass announced that the Club was sponsoring Lost John and his Allied Kentuckians in a musical show at the court house the evening of October 9.

In honor of its 100 per cent attendance over the year 1944-45 the Club recently received a plaque from its International headquarters. The plaque has been hung in Cagle's Cafe. Franklin's attendance record is outstanding. It was one of only 30 Clubs, out of a total of over 4,000 in the International organization, which made such a record last year.

BEEF SHOW TO BEGIN OCT. 17

Mr. Brown was a resident of Cream Of Macon County's Young Beef Crop Will Be Exhibited

The week that 30 odd boys have been looking forward to with great expectations is about here After selecting, feeding and catering to their beef calves for almost a year, the time has come to show and sell. The Asheville stock show is to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, October 17th and 18th, and will be the largest beef show ever to be held in North Carolina. These beef shows are most educational for both young and old. It is at these shows that the styles for the beef industry are set. All men who are interested in developing the beef cattle business are urged to ateither Wednesday Thursday. You will see the cream of the beef crop of our state. You will also see the cream of Macon county's beef crop.

A word of encouragement to our young beef growers will do more good than many dollars spent on them and your presence at the show will be great-ly appreciated by the boys.

Charles Potts Presented Son's Air Medal

The Air Medal with one Oak Leaf cluster has been present-ed to Charles Potts, of Franklin, on behalf of his son, Cpl. C. L. Potts, who died of wounds in the European theater of operations. The presentation was made by Col. Oliver H. Stout, command-ing officer of the Greenville army air base, at the home of Mr. Potts in Franklin. The citation for which Cpl. Potts received the Air Medal and Oak Leaf cluster is as follows:

"For meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States in Germany during the period December 25, 1944, to February 25, 1945, and from February 26, to March 15, 1945. As an air observer, Cpl. Potts flew 70 sorties over enemy-held territory during this period. Despite the adverse conditions of weather and enemy action. Cpl. Potts successfully adjusted artillery fire on enemy installations and gained vital information through reconnaissance. His accomplishments materially aided military operations against the enemy and reflect great credit upon himself and the military forces of the United States."

The Commodity Credit Corporation will make payments to any person who sells sheep and lambs to legally authorized slaughterers for slaughter, according to the CSDA.

Making Progress Raising Macon's Quota

The annual campaign for the United War Fund of America for the collection of funds with which to carry on a number of worthy causes, opened in Ma-con county on Monday, and the reports show that much progress has been made in the collections.

John M. Archer, chairman for Macon county, has pointed out that the needs are greater this year than ever and he feels that the response throughout the county will be good and that our quota will be met without any trouble.

Solicitors have been appointed for every section of the county, but should you fail to be asked for a contribution, please do not hesitate to look your chairman up and give as generously as possible. This is a responsibility that belong to all of us.

Five Hundred Feet In Twenty-Seven Years

In a world that's full of strife A terrapin lives a lengthy life. Tailored in a suit of armor Nothing much can really harm 'er.

In the spring of 1918, James R. Berry, of Franklin Route 4, carved his initials on the shell of a terrapin, which at that time was about the size of a silver dollar. On Saturday the same terrapin was found by Tom Sanders, of the same com-munity within 500 feet of where

Mr. Berry first found it. The terrapin seems now to be full grown and from all indications has spent the past 27 years near the same location.
