

6 Servicemen Get Home For Yule Reunion

An even half dozen servicemen, or men recently discharged from the service, with their families, gathered at the J. S. Sloan home for a family reunion during the Christmas holidays.

Three of them are sons of Mrs. Reby Sloan Tessler, two are sons-in-law and one is a nephew, and all are grandsons of grand sons-in-law of Mrs. J. S. Sloan.

Mrs. Tessler's sons who were at home for the holiday season are Capt. Jesse N. Tessler, stationed at Louisville, Ky., who served 27 months in the C. B. I. theater as supply officer of the 10th T. C. group; Jack Tessler, of Baton Rouge, La., a former first lieutenant, who returned to the States in August after 10 months' service in Italy as pilot of a P-47, and was discharged in September; and Lt. George G. Tessler, who in his 10 months in the Pacific flew a Corsair, from the carrier Intrepid, chiefly over Okinawa and the Japanese home islands, and who expects to be discharged soon. With them here were their wives and Mr. and Mrs. George Tessler's son, George, Jr.

The sons-in-law are Brownlow Addington, who served in Italy as gunner and radio operator on a B-17, and was discharged after his return to the States in September; and Kenneth R. Primus, seaman first class, who is now stationed at the navy radio school at Corpus Christi, Texas. They were accompanied by their respective wives, the former Miss Virginia Tessler and Miss Carol Tessler, and their young sons.

Surviving are one brother, Sam T. Phillips, of Franklin, and a large number of nieces and nephews. Potts funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

AMENDED G. I. BILL AFFECTS VETERANS HERE

Highlights Of Changes In Law Given In Questions And Answers

AMENDED G. I.—Head to come Macon county veterans and their families are affected by the provisions of the amended G. I. Bill of Rights, which was recently signed by President Truman and went into effect January 1.

The terms of the liberalized bill are summarized by the Veterans administration in the following questions and answers:

Q. Do I have to go to school immediately after leaving the army, to take advantage of the educational provisions?

A. No. The time during which the course may be started was extended, by amendments, from two years to four years after discharge, or up to four years after the end of the war, whichever is later. The time limit for completing the course is raised from seven to nine years after the end of the war.

Q. Must I be under 25 years of age to qualify for education or training?

No. Any eligible veteran may receive one year of educa-

GI TOURS IN ANCIENT JAP CAPITAL—Where Shoguns and emperors of feudal Japan stalked in fierce splendor through the centuries and pilgrims came to attend festivals and worship Buddha, informal American soldiers now stroll through the sacred gates of the Imperial Palace at Kyoto and gaze in wonder at its magnificent shrines and temples. Sixth Army troops under General Walter Krueger, after dreary months in the insect-infested jungles of New Guinea and the heat of ravaged Luzon, find themselves walking unmarred pavements and riding street cars in the only large Japanese city untouched by Yankee bombs. tion or training, plus an additional year for each year of his active military service. He need not have been under 25 when he entered service nor need he show his education was interrupted by war.

Q. Is the cost of a course limited to $500 per year?

A. No. Short, intensive courses may be taken with the total permissible cost figured on the basis of length of war service. A veteran is entitled to one course costing $500 for each year of service and if he is eligible for several courses, all may be taken in one year.

Q. May I receive subsistence payments while taking a correspondence course?

A. No. A veteran may take a correspondence course and its cost will be paid, but no subsistence. One-fourth of the elapsed time used in pursuing such a course is charged against the veteran's period of eligibility. The total amount payable for a correspondence course is $500.

Q. Does the amended bill increase subsistence allowances for schooling?

A. Yes, from $50 a month for single men to $65; from $75 for married men to $90.

Q. How soon after the war's end do I have to complete vocational training? I am a disabled veteran.

A. The amended bill extends the time to nine years after war's end. Previously it was six years.

A. I am a disabled veteran. What is my subsistence allowance while taking vocational rehabilitation work?

A. Disabled veterans now will receive a minimum of $105 per month, if without dependents; $115 with a dependent plus $10 for the first child, $7 for each additional child and $15 for a dependent parent. If the veteran receives a lesser pension he will receive these amounts while in training. In no event will his pension be reduced when he enters training.

Q. May I obtain real estate loan, and for how much?

A. The government will guarantee a real estate loan for you, up to $4,000, compared with $2,000 under the original bill. The government guarantees up to 50 per cent of the total loan against a veterans property, but not to exceed $4,000.

Q. May I obtain a loan for business with the government guaranteeing it?

A. Yes, but the limit of the government guarantee remains at $2,000, or 50 per cent.

Q. For loan purposes, what value is set on real estate?

A. Phraseology is changed from 'reasonable normal value' to 'reasonable value' in the amended bill. The appraisal must be acceptable to the lender, the veterans and a Veterans' administration-designated appraiser.

Q. Will any financial benefits I receive under the GI bill be deducted from any future bonds?

A. That portion of the law providing that any financial benefits received under the act would be deducted from a future bonus, if authorized, was repealed.

Q. Will the government pay my expenses in getting an artificial limb?

A. Yes. The Veterans' administration may obtain the limb and pay any expense involved in traveling to and from a center where the appliance is fitted and the veteran is trained in the use of it.

Washable gloves should be laundered frequently because severe soil makes rubbing necessary and rubbing injures the finish, affects the dye, and may roughen the surface.

AS WE look back over 1945, we humbly and reverently salute the men who brought America victory.

And we look forward to 1946, confident in the knowledge that this is a land of free men who are unafraid. Confident, too, because we know that in our own particular corner of the U. S. A. there is the spirit that meets difficulty without flinching; the spirit that throws off the impediments of yesterday, and faces the future determined to make tomorrow better than today.

We enter this New Year proud that one more year has been added to our long record of service to this community, and happy in the friendships that have ripened through the years.
