

Overseas Living Conditions

Iceland to Italy and around the world to Australia, the 100,000 girls who married American service men during the war will be coming to the United States soon. They'll be coming as aliens, but they can attain citizenship in two years.

In most cases, according to the Department of Justice, their G. I. children are citizens at birth.

Here are the steps a foreign-born wife must take to become an American:

1. Register with the American consul in her country. The State department says most of the wives overseas already have done so.
2. Obtain a visa. Visas are being set up, but the State department plans to issue them when the army makes them available to wives.
3. Arrive in this country, and obtain the visa to port of arrival.
4. They will forward a commissioner of immigration and naturalization at the port of arrival.
5. They are completing two years of residence in the United States under a preliminary petition for citizenship.
6. At the end of two years of residence, file a formal petition for citizenship.

W. Jack Carpenter Is Now On Duty In Philippine Islands

T/4 W. Jack Carpenter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed J. Carpenter, of Franklin, is serving with the 232nd Ordnance Tire company in Manila, P. I., as a tire repairman, according to word received here from the army.

Sgt. Carpenter entered the army at Camp Croft, S. C., October 12, 1942. Prior to his departure for overseas duty last September, he worked at the atomic bomb research plant at Oak Ridge, Tenn. Two brothers have already returned to the States under the readjustment plan, while a third, Ed Carpenter, Rm 3/c, is still in the navy.

Sgt. Carpenter was a teacher before he entered the Army. He was graduated from the Western Carolina Teacher's college.

6. Attend a court hearing to determine if she is eligible to be naturalized.

As for children born abroad: If the father is 21 or over, his child is a citizen at birth, provided, however, the father had lived in the United States 10 years, five years of which were after attaining the age of 16. This exception would apply only in a few cases, since service in the armed forces is counted as residence.

If the father is under 21, his child must be naturalized. When the alien mother is naturalized, the child in most cases will automatically become an American citizen.

Of the estimated 5,000 alien wives of service men already in the country, few have been here long enough to apply for naturalization. The Justice department expects the big onslaught to start in February, 1946, two years after mass arrivals begin.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

We, the members of Union Church, wish to pay tribute to the memory of our friend and brother, Frank Fleming, who recently was called away from us to receive the reward for the service he so gladly and efficiently rendered to his fellow man and to his Maker.

He was an active member of Union Church since he came into our neighborhood some twenty years ago. He was a member of the Board of Stewards and was Treasurer of the Board. Also he was Supt. of the Sunday School for fourteen years. Not only did he serve in the above activities of his church, but was a teacher in the public schools of the county for many years. Hence by his tireless efforts both in church and school work, he hastened the development of an atmosphere calculated to foster a higher type of Christian citizenship in Macon County.

Therefore, be it resolved by the membership of Union Church that in the death of Frank Fleming, the Church has lost one of its most devoted members and Macon County one of its most useful citizens.

Second, that we record our thanks to Almighty God for his life and service and pray that a portion of his spirit may abide with us through the years.

Third, that in the memory of him Union Church has an inheritance that is precious and shall be guarded with zealous care.

Fourth, that the Church express to his family through these resolutions the appreciation of his devoted service to his church.

Fifth, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the North Carolina Christian Advocate and a copy to The Franklin Press for publication. Also that a copy be written into the minutes of the Quarterly Conference Record as a reminder of his unselfish devotion to his church and community.

Respectfully submitted, J. T. Nichols, J. R. Gribble, J. W. Addington, Committee.
