

50 Attend Interesting PTA Meet

The approximately 50 persons who attended Monday night's monthly meeting of the Franklin Parent-Teacher association heard two interesting talks and were shown a number of nature slides in color that had just arrived for use at the school as a part of its visual education program. The slides were shown by Principal George H. Hill.

A collection was taken for the infantile paralysis fund, with the group's contributions totaling $31.40. The speakers were the Rev. A. Rufus Morgan, president of the association, and the Rev. W. Jackson Huneycutt.

Citing apt illustrations, Mr. Huneycutt pointed out that life is made up of sacrifices in order that the life of mankind may go on, constantly improved and enriched.

Mr. Morgan quoted an education authority as remarking that the consolidation of schools has the effect of removing from individual communities one of the chief community centers, the neighborhood school, and thus tends to break up the community as a unit. The speaker added that the churches have made the mistake of emphasizing the town, rather than the country, in their work, and thus have accelerated the break-up of the rural community.

Pointing out that there are many values in the country areas that are well worth preserving, Mr. Morgan suggested that, in the approaching school consolidations in this county, the school houses be retained and used as community centers.

A committee, made up of Mr. Huneycutt, Mrs. S. H. Lyle, Jr., and R. S. Jones, was named to arrange to have gravel put on the walks at the school, with a view to remedying the muddy conditions that have prevailed there much of the time during the winter.

Miss Maybryl Moody's sixth grade room had the largest number of parents present, with Mrs. Elizabeth Guffey's first grade room in second place. The attendance check also revealed a number of persons in attendance from other schools—five from Iota, three from Cowee, one from Otto, and one from Oak Ridge.

Jos. Ashear, county chairman for the Victory Clothing Collection, spoke briefly, asking the support of the association's members.

The Rev. D. P. Grant conducted the devotions, Mr. Morgan presided, and Mr. Huneycutt was program chairman.

The Winnipeg Grain Exchange was formed in 1908.

The expense of making high crop yields and high livestock production is justified by increased profits to farmers, Dean I. O. Schaub of the State Extension service, declares.

Kitchen Sources Of Used Household Fat

Used cooking fat, is any animal or vegetable fat, left over after food has been prepared. Common sources are: Drippings from roasting pans and boilers. Residual grease after meat has been fried. Grease skimmed from stews and soups; top of the water in which frankfurters have been cooked.

Used lard, vegetable shortenings and cooking oils. Fats cut from meat during preparation, or left on the plates after meals. These should be melted down.

Every drop of used cooking fat is badly needed right now, and housewives are urged to watch all these sources for household grease, and remember to salvage drops as well as teaspoonsful of used fats.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

We the members of Glenville Chapter No. 222 O. E. S., with sorrowing hearts, wish to pay our loving tribute and deepest respect to the memory of Sister Eva Viola McCoy who passed away on January 5th, to dwell in that celestial realm above.

Our departed Sister like Electa, in whose station she faithfully served our chapter, exemplified in her life those sublime virtues as taught by 'that Elect Lady', "That we love one another".

Therefore, be it resolved: That we humbly bow in submission to the Father, who is our comfort and consolation in the hour of sorrow;

That we extend our sympathy to the bereaved family and that we enter a copy of these resolutions upon the records of our chapter and that copies be sent the family and the Franklin Press.

Respectfully submitted,

TOGETHER AGAIN!

TEA for two! Never mind that you don't see any tea in the picture above because Pvt. Carlos Asencio and his wife, of Franklin, N. H., are so happy just to be able to sit and look at each other, it's doubtful they know what they're eating. Happy scenes like this one in the Atlantic City USO are everyday occurrences in clubs near military hospitals.

Hospitalized service men like themselves to USOs as soon as they can maneuver under their own steam—on crutches and in wheel chairs. Hostesses are busier than ever because right now a big part of USO's job is to make sure that the men who were entertained in clubs before they headed overseas find the same warmth and friendliness on their return.

The latching is out to visiting wives and families too who find time heavy on their hands between hospital visiting hours. The National Y.W.C.A. as the USO member agency primarily concerned with women, continues its tradition of making life easier for the distaff side. Such things as information, baby checks, crafts, and discussion groups as well as the indispensable kitchen stove and wash tub fill a variety of needs for these women.
