New Field, Stream System In Effect In North Carolina

Raleigh. — North Carolina's field and stream is operating under a new system of law enforcement and protection, utilized first for enforcement, and secondly for education. John D. Findlay, commissioner of game and inland fisheries has declared a plan in operations whereby the former game wardens have been replaced by 98 supervisors and protectors, uniformed to represent their specific assignment.

C. D. Kirkpatrick, graduate of State college and former game warden of Mecklenburg county, has been named chief of law enforcement. Under his guidance five law enforcement supervisors operate in the 21 districts outlined in the state, according to topography and work required.

Four to 10 protectors for each district, working with and under the district leaders, are assigned specific areas, but remain available for periodic transfers where needed. Further development points to employment of special deputy protectors to supplement the force on individual assignments.

Game and fish protectors named by districts include: First district—Swain, Jackson, Graham, Macon, Clay, and Cherokee counties; C. L. Garland of Robbinsville, George Jarrett of Hayesville, and Perry D. Tipton of Hayesville.

H. T. Burrell And R. T. Dalrymple Get Navy Discharges

Hugh Dorsey Burrell, seaman first class, of Franklin, Route 3, and Raymond T. Dalrymple, carpenter's mate third class, of Franklin, have been discharged from the navy, according to an announcement received here from the separation center at Charleston, S. C.

Mr. Burrell, 27, who has had 20 months' service, was last on duty on the U. S. S. Franklin. He plans to take employment with the naval powder factory at Indian Head, Md.

Mr. Dalrymple, aged 32, was in the navy 25 months, his last station having been the U. S. S. Laertes.

Other men from this immediate area who have just been discharged at Charleston include Lester L. Love, seaman first class, of Andrews, and Paul Curtis, seaman first class, of Culberson, Cherokee county.

North Carolina nurserymen have a slogan which says that a home is not a home until fruit is planted on the site.

Two Of Jamison's Four Service Sons Now Are Back Home

All four of Grover Jamison's sons have been in the service, and two of them now are back home, while a third is in France, and the fourth is on the West Coast.

Pfc. Grover Jamison, Jr., returned to Franklin recently after more than a year overseas. As a member of the 42nd division of the 7th army, he spent approximately seven weeks at the front during the fighting in Europe. His wife is the former Miss Grace Baird.

Frank Jamison, a staff sergeant in the ground forces of the 9th air force, was overseas about two years, and was in and around Berlin from early July until October. He was discharged and returned to Franklin several weeks ago.

The other two sons are Sgt. T. L. Jamison, who saw a lot of action in the Elbe area, and who now is stationed in France, and John Jamison, seaman second class. Mr. Jamison expects these two sons to be discharged and back home this spring.

CLYDE J. DUVALL OF CLAY ENLISTS IN REGULAR ARMY

Clyde J. Duvall, of Hayesville, Route 2, recently enlisted in the regular army, according to an announcement received here from the army recruiting station in Asheville. He is the son of Mrs. Bessie E. Duvall.

Pfc. J. M. McDowell Is Discharged After 26 Months' Service

Pfc. John W. McDowell, of Dillard, Ga., Route 1, a gunner in the 13th infantry, Eighth division, has been honorably discharged from the army, after 26 months' service, an announcement from Fort McPherson, Ga., states.

Pfc. McDowell, a farmer in civilian life, served overseas 12 months. He holds the Combat Infantry badge and Good Conduct medal, and is entitled to wear the European and American theater ribbons.

He is the son of Thomas McDowell.

"Say Dick, what do you do with your old clothes?"
"Very simple. I just take 'em off at night and put 'em on again the next day."

MEMORIAL

Letter to Saint Peter

Let him in, Peter, he is very tired;
Give him the couches where the angels sleep.
Let him wake whole again to new dawns fired
With sun, not war. And may his peace be deep.
Remember where the broken bodies lie
And give him things he likes.
Let him make noise.
God knows how young he was to have to die!
Give swing bands, not gold harps, to these our boys.
Let him love, Peter—he has had no time—
Girl sweet as meadow wind, with flowering hair
He should have trees and bird song, hills to climb—
The taste of summer in a ripened pear.
Tell him how he is missed, Say not to fear;
It's going to be all right with us down here.

Dedicated to Second Class Seaman LeRoy Downs who gave his life on June 11, 1945, by his sister, Jessie Lea Downs.

COOKERY HINT

When breading chops or cutlets, prepare them and put in refrigerator several hours before they are to be cooked. This makes them hold the crumbs better.

SPANKING?

If a child is cross and irritable, don't spank him. Look at his tongue. If it's coated, he may need a laxative.

Triena FOR CHILDREN
