

R. L. Brysons Observe 57th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bryson Sr., celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary quietly at their home on Iotla street Thursday of last week.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bryson are natives of Macon County. Mr. Bryson, who was born on June 1, 1869, is a son of the late James Bryson and Mrs. Elizabeth Shepherd Bryson, of the West's Mill community. Mrs. Bryson, born May 1, 1871, is a daughter of the late Posey Wild and Mrs. Elizabeth Franks Wild, of the Burningtown community. They were married March 7, 1889.

In the early part of their married life, they operated a general mercantile store in Franklin. Later Mr. Bryson traveled for the Frank E. Block Company in Georgia, Alabama and North Carolina for 25 years, during which time Mrs. Bryson operated hotels in Virginia, Alabama and North Carolina.

They returned to Franklin in 1939 and bought the Scott Griffin hotel, changing the name to Hotel Bryson, where they remained for five years. Selling the hotel to K. F. Montague, they retired to their former home on Iotla street, where they plan to spend their remaining years.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryson are members of the Franklin Baptist church and always take an active interest in all church activities.

To their marriage were born three children, two of whom survive, Mrs. Virginia Ramsey, of Franklin, and Robert L. Bryson, of Alabama. They also have 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

present century. Mr. Crawford, who was educated in the Macon County schools, at Bingham Military school, an R. O. T. C. unit of the regular army, and at the U. S. Naval academy, with his father established the first dairy operated in this county. He later was with the Forest service and the Nantahala Power and Light company. When the war came, he went to Pearl Harbor as a civilian, and worked there for about four years as inspector of welding, returning to Franklin only recently. His only previous bid for public office was about 12 years ago, when he was defeated for the nomination for clerk of the court by Harley R. Cabe, who won over him by a margin of less than 100 votes. He is a member of the American Legion. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, the former Miss Mae Hunnicutt, and their children live in Franklin.

Mrs. Lillian Mayfield Brittain Cover, a native of Murphy, who seeks the Democratic nomination for state senator, has served in the lower house as Cherokee County representative during the past two terms of the general assembly, and is well known throughout the district. The counties in this district are Macon, Swain, Clay, Graham, and Cherokee.

Pick Franklin For One Of 11 Community Surveys

rounding the town is really a unit. It also was agreed that many of the problems facing other communities today are practically non-existent here, and that the published results of the survey should so state, thus presenting the good as well as the bad side of this area.

Local persons judged best fitted to do so will be asked to study and report on various phases of the situation here, such as average income and employment, housing, juvenile delinquency, etc. Then, when all these detailed reports are in, the information on the community will be compiled and correlated, with a view to presenting a fairly complete and accurate picture of Franklin and vicinity.

Persons meeting with Dr. Carr and Dr. McCubbins to plan the study included the Rev. W. Jackson Huneycutt, Methodist pastor here; T. H. Fagg, assistant county agent; John Edwards, Boy Scout leader; Bob S. Sloan, veterans service officer; and G. H. Hill, Franklin school principal.

New Business Here Is Florist Store, Opened By Wests

A new business establishment in Franklin is West's Florists, which opened Monday.

The business is being operated by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. West, Jr., and is situated on the first floor of the old bank building, on the south side of West Main street's business district.

While the Wests plan to raise some flowers at their West's Mill home, most of their plants and cut flowers will be bought in Atlanta, Knoxville, and Asheville. In addition to potted plants and cut flowers, they also will carry novelties.

Mr. West, a native of this county, returned to Franklin a few months ago from Atlanta, where he was employed in the Bell Aircraft plant. Mrs. West engaged in the florist business in her home town of Landis.

For Sheriff

After careful consideration, I have decided to announce myself as a candidate for Sheriff of Macon County, subject to the coming Democratic primary.

If it is the will of the people to elect me, I shall endeavor in every way possible to prove myself worthy of their confidence. I am a native of Macon County and have lived here all my life, and I believe I know the people of this county and know how to serve them.

GRANDAD'S TUB SAFER THAN MODERN BATHROOM

One of the diarists in Queen Elizabeth's time wrote:
"The Queen hath built herself a bath where she doth bath herself once a month, whether she requires it or no."
Although the old Romans and Greeks rivalled Hollywood in the size of their swimming pools which they called "baths", it appears that the society folk of the Elizabethan era were not overly concerned with what even their best friends accepted in polite silence.

We have come a long way in personal hygiene since that time, but the National Conservation bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives, warns that the modern bathroom is one of the most dangerous rooms in the most dangerous place of all—the home.

Three contributory factors, frequent usage, dangerous equipment, and complete privacy, give full play to accident occurrence in the bathroom.

A few of the more common hazards lurking in the bathroom which kill and injure people each year include electric shock due to the high conductivity of water, poisons from the medicine chest, falls on slippery surfaces.

Safety specialists advise: Keep your hand off electric fixtures while bathing, keep lethal medicines under lock and key, use a rubber mat to prevent skidding in the tub.

O, buy a wreath for Johnny Doakes,
His gun was quite outmoded—
And yet it shot him through the head:
(He didn't know 'twas loaded.)

A lot of hunters are accidentally killed each year, but the National Conservation bureau reports that guns kill more people indoors than out—and can't explain just why.

CORRECTION

In the account, in last week's Press, of the Methodist zone meeting, a typographical error occurred in the text of Mrs. T. W. Porter's paper on Mrs. George A. Jones. The sentence: "It is a rare privilege to be able to look upon a service of almost 'tion' should have read, 'spent in one organization'. The error is regretted.
