Fifty - seven Southwestern North Carolina men were enlisted in the regular army, through the recruiting station here, during January and Feb-ruary, Sgt. Blaine Livingston, in charge of the station, said this week.

In January, 29 of the 55 applicants were accepted, and last month 41 applied for enlistment, of whom 28 were accepted.

It was announced that the reenlistment period for 378 military occupations has been extended to June 30. Sgt. Livingston pointed out, too, that men who served in the armed forces for at least six months are eligible to enlist in the army enlisted reserve corps. Details on both these developments may be obtained at the recruiting station. Men from this area enlisted in the army from February 27 through March 18 follow:

William M. McPherson, 17, son of John E. McPherson, of Franklin, Route 2; Thad Welch, 18, son of Mrs. Pearl Welch, of Franklin, Route 3; Thad George Watts, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Watts, of Prentiss; John J. Evans, 22, of Canton; James R. Trull, 22, of Canton, Route 1; Cecil J. Pressley, 26, of Can-ton; A. R. Raxter, 18, of An-drews; and G. G. Raxter, 17, of Andrews.

A movement, which seeks to provide for the people of North Carolina more doctors, especially in the smaller communities and rural areas, and better medical care, was under way throughout the state this week

A program to achieve this goal was launched at a meeting at more than 200 leaders of various professional, business, industrial and lay groups from all sections of the state in Thomasville last Thursday, when the North Carolina Good Health association was formed. The meeting was called by I. G. Greer; superintendent of the Baptist orphanage at Thomasville.

Citing numerous facts to show that North Carolina ranks low among the other states in hospital and medical care, the association, in preliminary plans, N. C. took steps to carry to every M14-3tc-M28 nook and corner of the state a movement "to support the ef-forts of the governor, the North Carolina Medical Care commission, the medical allied professions, and other groups and individuals working for the good health program."

The legislature of 1946, under he leadership of Governor the Cherry, it was pointed out, established machinery for the inauguration of the program.

Named to spearhead the appeal were four regional chairmen: D. Hiden Ramsey, for the west; Irving Carlyle, for the piedmont; James S. Ficklen, for the northeast, and Judge Henry L. Stevens, for the southeast.

A roster of farm property valuations for tax purposes in 1944 shows Forsyth county with the highest listing at $218,000,000. Guilford county, with taxable farm land recorded at $201,000,-000, was second highest in the state. Mecklenburg county, with rural land taxed on the basis of a $162,000,000 valuation, was third, and Durham county, $156,000,000, was fourth.

Agricultural economists of the Extension service at State col-lege observed that "it will be interesting to note" whether, following tax valuation releases for the 1946 tax year, values will have shifted among the counties and how much of the 75 per cent increase in the sale price of Tar Heel farm land during war years will be re-flected in county taxes.

THURSDAY, MARCH $1, 1946

The increase in farm land costs, tabulated in a survey by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics, was reported to have been consistent throughout the state, with very little fluctua-tion from area to area.

Clay county, with a farm land tax value of $1,000,000 and the smallest geographic acreage, was last on the tax list. Other counties in the top 10 and valuations follow: Fifth,

Wake county, $103,000,000; sixth, Gaston, $98,000,000; seventh, Buncombe, $95,000,000; eighth and ninth, New Hanover and Rowan, both $74,000,000; and tenth, Cabarrus, $57,000,000.
