POLITICAL ADVERTISING

To the Democratic Voters of Macon County:

Before I made my announcement as a candidate for Sheriff I gave the matter serious consideration as I know the office is a very important one for Macon County. In the first place it needs a man of experience and mature judgment as well as one who is not afraid to enforce the law.

I am 46 years old. I served as a deputy and during that time was very active in performing the duties required of me. I can truthfully say that during that time I favored no individual but undertook to carry out my duties impartially and with a view to keeping down criminal offenses. I have no hesitancy to say that I will make every effort possible to continue such efforts if I am elected and I will also use the best judgment possible in selecting deputy sheriffs to serve under me.

I have been a lifelong Democrat as have been my people before me. In the event I am elected I shall continue such party affiliation and if I am not successful in securing the nomination I will give all my support to the nominee of my party in the general election.

I would like to see and talk to every man and woman in the County but that is impossible. I will try to see as many as I can and I will be very grateful indeed for your vote in the coming primary to be held May 25th.

JAMES W. DEAL, NEGRO, DIES AT AGE OF 99 YEARS

West's Mill Farmer Once Was Body Servant To Charleston Man

James Washington Deal, Negro, died at his home in the West's Mill community May 2 was 99 years old.

Born in Charleston, S. C., October 22, 1846, he had lived in Macon county since about the age of 13 years, when he was brought to this county and sold as a slave to James Deal, of the Holly Springs section for $1,200.

He was a former body servant to Col. Clinton Huger during the first year of the War Between the States, and witnessed the opening of the war in Charleston harbor.

Following the war, he settled in the West's Mill community, where he bought a farm of 160 acres. It took him eight years to pay for this farm and after the crops were made each year, he would return to Charleston to make a "stake" to pay on the farm.

He was twice married, and is survived by his widow and three children by the latter marriage, and four children by the former. Also surviving are 35 grandchildren, 10 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Funeral services were held at the Pleasant Hill Methodist church Sunday afternoon, May 5, with the Rev. J. W. Williams, officiating.

A large number of both white and Negro friends attended the rites.

Former Teacher In Negro Schools Claimed By Death

William Bessmon Harper, Negro, 73, died at his home on Green street Monday—of last week, following an illness of several months.

Funeral services were held at the Pine Grove Baptist church near the Iotla Bridge last Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

At the age of 18 years he began teaching in the public schools in Macon county, and when he retired nine years ago, he had taught in every Negro school in Macon county. He was also a farmer. He joined the Methodist Episcopal church at the age of 19 and remained in that church until in 1905, when he joined the Pine Grove Baptist church. He also served as a deacon in the church.

He was twice married. The first marriage was to Hattie Deal, and the latter marriage was to Martha Parish, who survives. Seven children also survive.

PARENTS 'SO DISTRUCTIVE'

Two little children were playing. One pretended that she wanted to rent the other's playhouse.

"Have you any parents?" the playhouse owner asked. "Yes," said the other little girl. "Two."

"I'm so sorry," said the little landlady. "I never rent to children with parents. They're so destructive." — Toronto Globe and Mail.
