MRS. STEVE POTTS HONORED WITH SHOWER AND PARTY

Mrs. Steve Potts was honored with a miscellaneous shower and party Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at Linda's, given by Mrs. Jay Chapman and Mrs. Richard C. Holt. Flower arrangements were of Mountain laurel.

Despite the downpour of rain, a large number of persons attended the shower, presenting the honoree with many useful and attractive gifts, while others were unable to come sent gifts.

Mrs. Potts is the former Miss Vella Mae Hicks, whose marriage was an event of last month in the First Presbyterian church in Walhalla, S. C.

CAZIARCS GIVE RECEPTION IN HONOR OF KERNANS

Approximately seventy-five persons attended the reception given by Col. and Mrs. Elliot Caziar Sunday afternoon, honoring Col. and Mrs. F. W. Kernan, of Biloxi, Miss., who are building a permanent home on their recently 100-acre farm a mile or so from the village.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. J. E. Root, Mrs. O. E. Young and Mrs. Tudor N. Hall presided over the tea and coffee service at a table covered with a linen cloth and centered with a cut-glass bowl holding pink roses, flanked by pink tapers in cut-glass holders. Other flower decorations were pink peonies and white syringa blossoms. Assisting in entertaining were Miss Lula Smith, of Claytop, Ga., sister of Mrs. Caziarc, and Mrs. J. E. Potts.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. James Downey and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cooper, of Gainesville, Ga., Col. and Mrs. Thad Bynum and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reeves, of Clayton, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. Young and Victor Smith, of Atlanta.

Col. Kernan, the author of a number of books, now has re-

Odom Plans Bird Study In Highlands

Dr. Eugene Odom, assistant professor of biology, University of Georgia, is to be one of the research fellows at the Weyman Laboratory this summer. It has been announced. Dr. Odom is to make quantitative studies on birds of the area, and will consult with a group of local residents who have been cooperating in the keeping of bird records of this area.

Officials of the Highlands Museum and Biological Laboratory remarked that they feel fortunate in obtaining the services of Dr. Odom.

He holds an A. B. degree from the University of North Carolina, an A. M. from Western Reserve university, and a Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois. Dr. Odom has served as resident naturalist for the Edmund Niles Huyck Preserve, Rensselaerville, N. Y., as an assistant at the Baldwin Bird Reserve Laboratory in Ohio, and as a research fellow at the Mountain Lake Biological Station.

Dr. Odom is an authority on the heart rate of birds, having developed the cardio-vibrometer for investigation in this field. He has published many articles in the leading scientific journals on the physiological ecology of birds and mammals, life history of the Paridae, bird distribution, and vertebrate ecology.

He will begin his work at the laboratory here Wednesday of next week, and he and his family will stay at the home of Miss Rebecca Nall, on East Main street.

On his visit here last Sunday, Dr. Odom and Miss Thelma Howell, assistant director of the Weyman Laboratory, investigated several areas with a view to selecting sites for the bird studies Dr. Odom will make on the Highlands plateau.

Cites Beauty Of Wreath Highlands Group Placed

As chairman of the committee to provide a Memorial day wreath honoring Macon County's servicemen who lost their lives in the recent war, Mrs. Earle Crunkleton this week praised the painstaking care of the West's Florists, in Franklin for the wreath that was placed in that section of Franklin's square where the crosses for the county's war dead stand.

For the benefit of those who could not see the wreath, Mrs. Crunkleton pointed out that it contained approximately four dozen red and white carnations, with the top center holding a cluster of white lilies tied with long streamers of red, white and blue ribbons.

Baker Will Conduct Service Next Sunday

At the monthly congregational supper meeting of the Episcopal church of the Incarnation, held Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tudor N. Hall, the Rev. A. Rufus Morgan announced that, since he will be attending a convention in Seawane over the week-end, next Sunday morning's worship service will be conducted by the Rev. William Baker, of Cashiers, when the celebration of Holy Communion will be observed.

The supper was served buffet style from the table, where Mrs. Hall poured coffee and tea.

The D. A. Goes to Trial—Erle Stanley Gardner. How was Doug Selby to identify the dead hobo—after the body had been cremated?

Rim of the Desert—Ernest Haycox. A swift, jarring tale of the bitter fight between homesteaders and cattle ranchers for "free" land in the Old West.

Young Widow—Clarissa Fairchild Cushman. Not one, but four unwanted suitors complicated life for Joan Bainbridge, because she was thorough with life and love forever—at twenty-six.

Girl of the Limberlost—Gene Stratton Porter. The tender novel of love and courage that captivated millions.

Claudia—Rose Franken. The heart-warming human story of a lovely wife, a young husband, and an affectionate mother-in-law from which the movie and radio programs were made.

Secret Marriage—Kathleen Norris. Mary Burleigh, nineteen and penniless, secretly married her first love and then met the man she really wanted.

Comanche Kid—E. B. Mann. A hard-fighting young man undertakes to disprove charges of theft and murder against his father who was one of the famous gunmen of the early west.

Confidential—Donald Henderson Clarke. The single-handed fight of a New York newspaper reporter against the big shot of the New York underworld.

Alimony—Faith Baldwin. Must a man pay a woman not to live with him, even though she prefers another man?

Passion Flower—Kathleen Norris. Acting before her mirror hadn't prepared Cassy for a world in which other women consider a man free if his wife can't hold him.

Rebecca—Daphne du Maurier. "Superb, good entertainment... this is a melodrama with all the trimmings."

Jane Eyre—Charlotte Bronte. The world-famous novel of self-sacrificing and tragic love from which the motion picture was made.

China Flight—Pearl S. Buck. A dramatic tale of high adventure in Jap-held Shanghai.

Rustlers' Round-Up—E. B. Mann. The mysterious "Whistler" brings two blazing guns and the law to wide-open Stillwell.

District Nurse—Faith Baldwin. Ellen was cool and impersonal in helping poor girls who had been betrayed—until one of them mentioned her fiancé.

Rich Girl, Poor Girl—Faith Baldwin. The story of two girls and the man they both love.

The Case of the Perjured Parrot—Erle Stanley Gardner. Perry Mason and Della Street solve an apparently untraceable murder under exceedingly bizarre circumstances.

China Sky—Pearl S. Buck. The story of two brave American doctors—a man and a woman—who found love and hospital duties in bomb-torn China.

The D. A. Calls It Murder—Erle Stanley Gardner. Doug Selby solves the murder of an unidentified minister. A whizzer by America's best-selling mystery author.

Heartbroken Melody—Kathleen Norris. America's greatest romantic novelist tells the story of a girl in the world of business who learned how unsatisfactory office love can be.

Week-End Marriage—Faith Baldwin. What kind of a home can a girl make for herself and her man if she's running to an office day-times and skipping out to the delicatessen at night?

Dr. Whitney's Secretary—Dorothy Pierce Walker. Her courage helped him make the most of his profession and himself.

The Case of the Sulky Girl—Erle Stanley Gardner. Perry Mason, retained by a beautiful, bad-tempered hell-cat, wins her life in a trial where all the evidence is against him.

Hillbilly Doctor—Elizabeth Seifert. Three very different women fight to control the career and heart of a brilliant young doctor in the Ozarks.
