A Bell for Bethania

THIS is a story of two bells. One hung in the belfry of the little Moravian Church in Bethania, N. C. It was made 105 years ago from coins and treasured trinkets donated by the parishioners.

The other bell had traveled hundreds of thousands of miles on a Southern Railway locomotive. After many years of service it was bound for the scrap pile.

When fire swept the Bethania church in 1942, the sweet-toned bell made from coins and trinkets was destroyed. Parishioners missed its pleasant call. So, when the church was restored, a search was made for a bell of the same pure tone.

But it couldn't be found. Then a member of the, church, Frank T. Miller, recalled the beautiful tones of some of the locomotive bells of his boyhood days. He wrote a letter to the Southern Railway System . . . and now, a mellow-toned old bell from a Southern Railway locomotive hangs in the belfry of the Bethania church.

We like to think of this bell of ours still serving the community . . . still "belonging" to the people it served in another way for so many years. We like to think the whole railway "belongs" in the same friendly way in all the communities it serves.

Whether it's transporting freight or passengers . . . or providing a "Bell for Bethania" . . . our job is, and always will be, to serve the South in every way we can.
