125 ATTEND PTA
YULE PROGRAM

Children Present Play,
Sing Carols, Give
Readings

Approximately 125 persons attended the Christmas program of the Franklin Parent-Teacher association, held at the school Monday night.

The program was featured by a play presented by Mrs. J. A. Flanagan's seventh grade Christmas carols, by a group from Mrs. Chester C. Harris' third grade, and readings by members of Mrs. R. S. Jones' expression class.

Following group singing of "Hark the Herald Angels Sing", Freda Siler gave a devotional reading, "A Christmas Hymn", and Sue Williams gave "Let's Make It A Merry Christmas" as a reading.

Dressed in choir singers' costumes, nine children from Mrs. Harris' room presented half dozen or more carols, singing without accompaniment. In the group were Betty Henson, Martha Womack, Joy McCollum, Jean McCollum, Paulette Ward, Farold Henson, Sue Myers, Frieda Dean Russell, and Joan Cruse.

Two readings followed: "Sings of Christmas", by Julia Hunnicutt, and "Christmas Eve in a Mining Camp", by Elizabeth Jones.

The seventh grade's play, "The Candle in the Window", was presented against an attractive stage setting arranged by the grade. Members of the cast were Mary Ann Killian, Allan Cartledge, Mary Belle Browning, Iris Long, Dora Lee Henson, Richard Jones, Clyde Bingham, Martha Ann Stockton, Morris Henson, Meda Angel, and Mildred Johnson.

Mrs. Allen Siler, program chairman, expressed appreciation to those responsible for the program, and Mrs. Weimar Jones, president, voiced the association's gratitude to members of the cast of "Cornzapoppin", the production on which the association cleared about $200, and for the generous support the organization received from merchants and others in connection with the play.

The parents' attendance prize was won by Mrs. Flanagan's room.

Following the program, those attending participated in a social hour, at which members of the hospitality committee serviced Christmas cookies and punch.

Santa, handed the packages from the beautifully decorated tree to those present. Christmas carols were sung during the evening.
